TRANSPORTATION CRISIS FACES UNITED STATES

WAGE QUESTION CAUSES BITTER FRAME OF MIND

Tieup Of Roads May Result From Possible Wage Decrease.

DISCONTENT IS SEEN

President Wilson Maintains Silence Regarding Requests.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The spectre of a transportation tie up is hovering over the nation today as the result of threats to reduce railroad wages, according to labor leaders here.

Railroad workers embittered over wage conditions, are even now threatening to leave their work, leaders here declare. While the heads of the railroad labor organizations refuse to predict a strike in the event that railroad wages are reduced, they declare that the nation will face a transportation crisis and intimate that the men will simply refuse to work at reduced wages, whether their leaders want them or not.

There has been a rumbling of discontent in labor circles for many months as the result of the failure of the railroad labor board to grant the full wage demands of the workers and the granting of increased rates to the railroads. This discontent is steadily mounting and if wages are reduced leaders assert they will not be able to hold their men in line.

Keep Men At Work

"The hardest job we have right now is to keep the men at their work," said E. C. Davidson, secretary of the International Machinists organization today. The International Machinists embraces a majority of the railroad shop workers.

"The men are bitter," said Davidson. "They want to throw up their jobs and quit working now. Our task is to keep them on the job."

"I don't want to talk strike. I don't know what the men will do if wages are reduced, but I know that it will be next to impossible to hold the men in line. If I were a shop worker and wages were reduced I would throw up my job right away and if necessary I would leave the trade."

"The railroad men made enormous sacrifices during the war. They lived under terrible conditions but they kept the flow of supplies steadily going on. When the war was over and they saw the railroads being plundered they became bitter and they are more bitter now than ever."

No Justification

"The railroads were granted huge rate increases to meet the wage increases and the public is bearing the burden. The other seventy percent of the increase hasn't gone for labor and the roads have no justification for talking wage reduction."

"We have the facts. We know the condition of the railroads. They can afford to pay five times as much for repair work done outside of their shops as they paid for it in their shops before the war and yet they talk of the need of reducing wages."

"I don't believe wages are going to be reduced for the men just won't work."

"I won't say there will be a strike if wages are reduced, I don't know, nobody knows, but I do know this, that it is a hard job to keep the men at work right now."

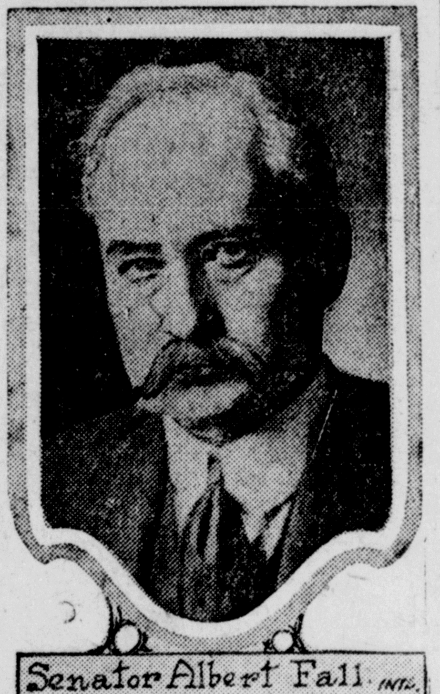

Washington, Feb. 3.—President Wilson has referred to John Barton Payne, director of the railroad administration the request of railroad union leaders for an investigation of proposals made by railway executives for wage reduction. The president also referred to Payne the statements of railway executives relative to the situation with regard to wage reductions.

WORKERS THREATEN GENERAL WALKOUT

Detroit, Feb. 3.—Walkout of 370,000 members of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers was predicted today if the national wage agreement is broken by railway officials and salaries are cut by S. J. Pegg, international grand secretary-treasurer of the union.

Thousands of the brotherhood's members embittered over present wage conditions are even now threatening to leave their work, he declared. While Mr. Pegg refused to predict a strike in the event wages are reduced, he declared the men will simply refuse to work for less money, whether the union officials want them to or not.

POLAND TO REDUCE BY HALF INDEMNITY WANTED FROM RUSS

Peace Negotiations Said To Be "Proceeding In Conciliatory Manner."

London, Feb. 3.—Poland has cut in half the amount of gold indemnity demanded from soviet Russia for damages done when Poland was overrun by bolshevik troops last summer according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen today quoting advice received by the Danish newspaper Politiken from Riga.

According to the Politiken's correspondent the Russo-Polish peace negotiations which have been dragging on at Minsk and Riga for five months are "proceeding in a conciliatory manner" and a number of economic questions have already been considered.

On the other hand information received from Riga indicated that the negotiations have reached an unsatisfactory stage and that a deadlock is probable. The chief obstacles, according to word received here are the questions of Russian reparations and the size of the Polish neutrality zones.

BRITISH OPTIMISTIC ON INDEMNITY

London, Feb. 3.—There is an optimistic feeling in British official circles that a satisfactory solution will be reached on the indemnity question despite the furore of resentment aroused in Germany over the amount imposed by the allies, said the diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph today.

CHAOS PREVAILS IN BOTH HOUSES ON LEGISLATION

Pending Legislation Has Fallen Into Serious Jam.

MANIFEST CONCERN Efforts Being Made To Re-store Some Semblance Of Order.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Republican leaders of the senate and house buckled down today to the difficult task of trying to restore some semblance of order from the chaotic state into which pending legislation has fallen.

The Republican steering committee of both chambers got together in the hope of being able to patch up a program that would prevent at least some of the minor appropriation bills from being bequeathed to the new congress.

The seriousness of the legislative jam is giving the Republican leaders grave concern, if only because of the expressed desire of President-elect Harding that all of the appropriation bills be disposed of at this session.

Efforts Unavailing.

Efforts to unravel the political snarl over the emergency tariff bill in the senate have thus far proven unavailing. The bill's Democratic opponents have turned the tables on the Republican leaders. From the attitude of seeking to prevent a vote on the bill with a filibuster, the Democrats have switched to one of ostensibly striving to force a vote by the middle of the month. They have blocked the Republican plan, supposed to have its culmination in the defeat of cloture, to lay the tariff measure aside for the rest of the session and take up the first of 12 appropriation bills still pending.

The Democrats have jockeyed the Republicans into now opposing a vote, though apparently willing to enter into an unanimous consent agreement for the fixing of a time for one.

Through the maneuvers of the Democrats, the tariff bill still remains the "unfinished business" of the senate thereby taking precedence over all other legislation pending before that body. The senate has passed but one of thirteen appropriation bills, that providing for the financial requirements of the district of Columbia for the next fiscal year.

HOLD XENIA YOUTHS ALLEGED TO HAVE BEATEN UP MAN

Edward Fogwell and Bert Blair Are Arrested In Dayton.

With the arrest by Dayton police of Edward Fogwell, and his son, Ernest of Osborn, both former Xenians, and also Bert Blair, of this city, it is believed that the reported robbery of Mike Rasanski, Dayton, who said he had been robbed by three men Wednesday night, has been cleared up.

Rasanski told the police he was playing pool late Wednesday night when three men approached him and said "Come with us." He said he complied, thinking he was under arrest. The four got into the automobile, all of whom have been stolen from Mr. Maude Fogwell, of Osborn, and according to Rasanski, when they were a short distance from town, he was beaten by three men, robbed of $325 and thrown out of the car.

Fogwell is alleged to have told the Dayton Police that Rasanski borrowed his still and refused to return it so the trio went after it. They were using Fogwell's automobile he said. He told the police that when they were unable to find the still, they had given Rasanski a good licking.

Under cross examination Rasanski said he did not remember now whether he was robbed. Bert Blair, implicated in the arrest by a dispatch from Dayton, could not be reached here Thursday afternoon.

SKIRTS WILL BE MUCH LONGER SAY PARIS STYLES

Paris, Feb. 3.—Skirts are going to be much longer in Paris this spring. The dressmakers however, say it is not because of denunciation by clergymen. They declare that the high cost of silk stockings made it economical for women to wear longer dresses, hiding stockings with cotton piers. Gowns in all the late plays are now being put on here reveal skirts to the wearer's ankles.

DAVIS TO RE-ORGANIZE STATE GOVERNMENT

Sweeping Changes In Ohio Government—Mental Activities Planned—Would Create Ten Administrative Departments It Is Made Public.

Columbus, O., Feb. 3.—Sweeping reorganization of the Ohio Government—activities is contemplated in a plan made public by Governor Davis. This plan provides for the creation of ten administrative departments, but retains the state industrial, tax and public utilities commissions, in the capacity of quasi-judicial organizations, but shorn, as far as possible of administrative duties.

The governor's plan is based upon the present Illinois system of state government.

Gov. Davis recommends legislation providing for state departments of finance, commerce, public works, agriculture, health, labor, registration, education, public welfare and military. Recommending retention of the elective officials lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer and attorney general as provided by the

TREASURY OF MARION COUNTY AGAIN NORMAL

Marion, Feb. 3.—Marion county's treasury was back to normalcy today for the first time since last Wednesday, when Harry Forry, then county treasurer, told a startling yarn about being held up by unmasked bandits in his office. He said the bandits got away with $14,303 in currency, but later admitted that he was lying and is now being held on a charge of embezzlement. The treasury was opened to the public today with former Deputy County Auditor Harry Smith as treasurer and County Treasurer-elect Bert J. Shelton as deputy treasurer.

Today the mother came after her. The girl was enroute to La-Crosse, Wis., where she was to meet her sweetheart and be married. Her father is a prominent Warren business man.

NATION WIDE PLAN TO UNITE PRODUCER AND USER STARTS

All American Farmer Labor Co-operative Congress Convened.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 3.—An organized nation wide effort to bring together the producer and consumer—the man who tills the soil and the man who toils in the workshop and factory—will be inaugurated when the All-American Farmer-Labor-Cooperative congress convenes in B. of L. E. auditorium here on February 10, for a three day session.

Between 300 and 400 delegates, representing farmers' organizations, labor organizations and various progressive units will be present, when the congress meets in its attempts to solve the double angled problem—lower costs of foodstuffs to consumers; better prices to the producers.

Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and one of the chief promoters of the congress, talked interestingly of the project to the International News Service.

"It is the only solution of the problem," he said. "Farmers throughout the agricultural sections today are selling their products at a loss. Wheat which costs the farmers of North Dakota $2.74 a bushel to produce commands less than half that price at their elevators today. So it is with other products of the farm."

"On the other hand, the worker is paying high prices for the foods produced by the farmer. The road between farm and kitchen is too long and there are too many to take toll on the way. Farmers get too little for their products; consumers pay too much."

FAKE OFFICERS ROB AND BEAT VICTIM

Dayton, O., Feb. 3.—"Come with us" said three men to Mike Rasanski, as he was playing pool late last night. Mike went with them, thinking he was under arrest. The four got into an auto, said to have been stolen from Mrs. Maude Fogwell, of Osborn, O., and when a short distance out of town, Rasanski was beaten and robbed of $315 and thrown out of the car.

BEGIN ARRANGEMENTS FOR INAUGURAL DAY IN SUNNY SOUTH

Port Lauderdale, Fla., Feb. 3.—Plans for the momentous day when he will become chief executive of the United States occupied a part of the attention of Warren G. Harding today. News from Washington of the attendance at a theatre of President Wilson, it is understood, permitted the president elect to outline with more certainty the schedule for his journey from the White House to the capital and the return to the executive mansion for luncheon with his predecessor. No doubt was expressed by members of the Harding party today that President Wilson would be seated beside Mr. Harding on that journey.

The president elect left for Palm Beach on the yacht Victoria early today after having spent the night at anchor near Port Lauderdale.

It is expected the Victoria will arrive at Palm Beach early this afternoon. Mr. Harding will luncheon at the home of Mrs. Theodore Frelinghuysen and play eighteen holes c. golf before sailing again for the north.

SIX KILLED IN FURIOUS FIGHT IN IRISH CITY

Sinn Feiners, Meet Death In Desperate Battle.

PARTY AMBUSHED

British Military Policemen Engage Party Of Attacks.

Dublin, Feb. 3.—Six sin Feiners were killed and a number were wounded in a desperate battle with British military policemen near Rosscarberry early today.

A large party of Republicans had ambushed two lorries filled with policemen. At the first volley from the attackers the policemen returned fire and violent fighting ensued.

Finally the attackers were forced to retreat in disorder leaving the dead and a number of wounded behind. The authorities did not announce the police casualties.

The fighting raged so furiously that the firing was heard nine miles away. It was the first reported that one hundred Sinn Feiners were in the ambush party but later reports are yet officially confirmed, said that 400 men had participated. The republicans had commandeered the home of Thomas King, a justice of the peace at Burgatia near Rosscarberry. Their intention was to attack a detachment of 18 policemen who were expected to pass. The Republican leaders however, failed to cut all the telephone wires and reinforcements of military police were summoned from Clonsilla after the fight had begun. The reinforcements were rushed to the scene equipped with all accoutrements for battle. When the attackers were driven from the King home the building was said to be a veritable shambles.

Stern guerrilla warfare is raging along the Irish front with the Sinn Fein taking revenge for the execution of Cornelius Murphy at Cork who was dead nearly 12 hours before anyone outside of official circles even knew the nature of the sentence imposed upon him by the court martial. At least four policemen were killed and ten others wounded in attacks by Republicans during the 24 hours that followed the public announcement of Murphy's execution. Three others who were alleged to have assisted the British police were shot to death from ambush.

A man was shot dead in Bishop Street near Dublin Castle early today. A cyclist was killed by stray bullet while riding through Trinity street. A boy was wounded while crossing Angier street.

Soldiers and black and tan policemen were active throughout the night in all parts of Ireland.

The death list in the attack upon black and tan policemen near Ballymalnee, in county Longford, was brought up to four this morning when two of the policemen died of their wounds. Two motor cars filled with black and tans were ambushed and blown up with a mine that had been planted under the roadway. Two were killed outright and ten others were wounded.

POLICE RECOVER PAPERS STOLEN DURING ROBBERY

Papers belonging to the Xenia branch of the Springfield Dairy Products Company which was robbed of $20 when the office safe was blown Tuesday night, have been found by police along the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad near the Robbins & Myers plant.

Papers taken from Xenia Oil Company filling station at West Market street and Dayton avenue, also entered Tuesday night, were found in an outhouse back of the creamery indicating that the robbers entered the filling station first, carrying part of the papers obtained there to the creamery building, where they pulled the second job of the evening, and then left by way of the Baltimore & Ohio tracks east.

Police have in their possession the iron railroad bolt used to smash the door glass of the filling station, which was taken from a pile of railroad iron farther down the Baltimore & Ohio tracks, and they also have a piece of brake shoe and a rail spike used in prying the lock from the engine room door of the creamery.

It has been learned that the robbers made a bigger haul than at first thought at the filling station, as a Smith & Wesson revolver and a pair of pliers, left there for safe keeping by a Cincinnati motorist whose car broke down near there Tuesday afternoon, were missing following the robbery. The owner's machine was hauled in to the Central Garage but his name was not learned.

Martin Lavin, 45, arrested on suspicion Wednesday morning, has been exonerated of any connection with the robberies, furnishing an alibi for himself for all Tuesday night. Efforts are being made to have him taken care of at the County Infirmary.

MICHAEL MULLEN POLITICIAN OF CINCINNATI DIES

Michael Mullen, Cincinnati politician, leader of the Eighth Ward in that city, Republican whip in the City Council and philanthropist, died Wednesday afternoon at Good Samaritan Hospital at this city. He had been in failing health for some time.

The death of Mike Mullen, one of the most interesting and lovable characters in this vicinity, will be received with sadness by the thousands of poor he has befriended and will also be a shock to his many friends at Bellbrook, where annually for many years, he brought a great number of Cincinnati's poor children, for an outing in the country.

Born in March, 1856, Michael Mullen assumed the leadership in the ward in which he made his home, when he became connected with the police department in 1881. In 1887 he was elected a member of the City Council on the Democratic ticket, although he is a Republican in politics, and he had served on the council ever since. Since the death of George B. Cox, he has been a leader in Republican politics in Cincinnati, although he played the game vigorously it is said of him, that he was always fair and square.

When Mullen was just beginning his rise he was befriended by Arty Duffy, proprietor of a gambling house at Sixth and Vine streets, where the Bell block now stands. Duffy conducted a gambling house when this was a profitable business in Cincinnati. Later Duffy suffered reverses and finally, when he lost his fortune as he had made it, Mullen erected a house for him at Fifth and Pike streets, where he lived until he died a few years ago.

Eight years ago, Duffy was owner of the famous Bellbrook Inn, which 20 years ago was a prominent summer resort in this part of the country, and where hundreds have summered. The farm was sold to satisfy a mortgage and Mullen purchased the place for a country home, and there it was that he entertained many of his friends, and held annually his picnics and outings for the poor children of the Eighth Ward, Cincinnati. Up to the time of his death, Duffy was always a welcome guest at Bellbrook.

Surviving Mr. Mullen are two daughters, Mrs. Barbara Moran, and Mrs. Mary O'Donnell and a son, John, who is deputy county treasurer. Barbara is by rights a granddaughter, adopted by Mr. Mullen, at which time she insisted on taking her grandfather's name, of Michael, which she used as a middle name.

The funeral services will be held at St. Xavier's Church Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

OHIO'S SPUD ACREAGE REDUCED 41 PER CENT

Ohio's potato acreage has decreased 41 per cent during the past 10 years—from 212,000 to 124,000 acres. An important factor in the decreased production is said to be diseased seed.

The average yield in Ohio last season was 100 bushels per acre, or considerably more than the average. Even 100 bushels per acre, growers say, however, is an unprofitable crop.

In an attempt to improve the crop yield, certified seed is being used for demonstrations in Ashtabula, Columbiana, Cuyahoga, Hamilton, and Scioto counties. The project is being conducted by the county farm bureaus in cooperation with the Ohio State University.

Since individual growers have secured excellent results from the importation of high class seed, Dr. E. E. Clayton of the Ohio State University says there is every reason to believe that growers as a whole can increase their yields and profits in this way.

The northern counties are importing Rural New Yorkers from Wisconsin and the southern counties, Early Ohio's from Minnesota.

NEW YORK TO GET BIG SCRAP SAYS RICKARD, JULY 2

New York, Feb. 3.—Lil' Ole New York is going to get the Dempsey-Carpentier scrap after all.

It is also going to get the Dempsey-Willard knuckle fest, providing Dempsey is still champion after he meets Carpentier.

These announcements were made today by Promoter Tex Rickard, who plans to build an open air arena in or near New York or the staging of the international battle July 2 and the winner of the bout and Willard on Labor Day.

Rickard has staged most of his big fights in the open end he believes that even with a limit of $15 for a championship bout he will be able to promote the Dempsey-Carpentier bout successfully.

The Dempsey-Willard bout has been simply set ahead. Rickard said that both boxers were willing to go through with the original match on March 17, had he insisted on it, though Willard's sudden departure from this neighborhood and Jack Kearns' assertion that Jess had run out of the match left a suspicion that the match did not look alluring to Willard who would have had to gamble with Rickard on the gate it would draw in the "garden."

Rickard is expected to announce a site for the big arena within a week or two and he expects to have it ready for the staging of outdoor bouts just as soon as the weather will permit. This plan will be followed to the letter unless unforeseen happenings block it.

THREE GAMES ARE PLAYED AT RINK WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Fans were treated to all kinds of basketball at the Rink Wednesday night when the Shamrocks defeated the Springfield Triangles in a well played exhibition of the court game, 21-11. St. Brigid's Meteors were defeated by the Comer Raincoats of Dayton 17-15 and St. Brigid's Cadets defeated the Carrmonte Cadets of Dayton 20-4.

As a basketball game, the contest between the Meteors and the Comers was a grand football fracas. Coach Haller's players were outwitted 40 pounds to the man, the management having been fooled on the size and age of the Comers because of the fact that the latter team recently joined with the Cettile Jrs. When the crowd yelled "hold 'em" the visitors, it is said took the shouts literally, and it kept Referee Rachford busy prying them off the local lads. The final ended with the score 11-8. The lineup and summary:

OHIO FARM HOMES LACK CONVENIENCES

Home conveniences on Ohio farms are sadly lacking, if the results of a survey conducted last summer, by specialists of the Agricultural College Extension Service may be taken as a criterion.

A house-to-house survey was made in one typical township each of Madison, Athens, Crawford and Lorain counties.

Outstanding among the facts developed are that only 9 per cent of the homes have running water, less than 9 per cent have bathtubs, and but 56.3 per cent have washing machines of any kind, although 93.5 per cent of the laundry work is done at home. Only a fourth of the washing machines are run by power. Over 90 per cent of the farm families are using an out-door closet that is not fly proof.

NOT AN EXCESSIVE INDEMNITY.

Why should it be assumed that the amount of the indemnity apportioned to Germany is unjust and impossible?

The total is 56 1/2 billion dollars, payable over forty-two years. A sliding scale of payment is provided for, to make payment easier. If it were distributed equally over the forty-two years the annual payment would be one billion three hundred million dollars.

In addition there is a levy of 12 per cent on German exports. The amount which this will raise is uncertain. It is the fixed indemnity about which protests are now going up.

An average of a billion three hundred million a year for a generation is a large sum. But the United States is paying nearly that much in annual interest on the expenses incurred in the war. France has an interest charge on its war debt nearly double the amount of the annual German indemnity. The interest on the combined war debt of the United Kingdom, France, Italy and Belgium is more than four times the amount Germany is asked to pay each year. That does not take into the account the destruction to life and property.

Why is it unreasonable to expect Germany to pay annually an amount which is only a fraction of the sum other nations are having to pay on her account, and which is not much more than half as much as the French people alone must pay in taxes to meet the interest on the sum raised to repel the German invasion?

—Kansas City Star.

"WHATEVER GOES UP MUST SURELY COME DOWN"— SO THERE YOU ARE.

In the face of continued slumps in prices as industrial and trade deflation progresses, it is noticeable that there is an encouraging note of optimism by leading manufacturers and business men. The period the country is now passing through was discounted in advance by men familiar with the operations of economics.

Merchants generally were reluctant to "take a loss" and at once enter upon the lower price levels for merchandising, and it is not surprising that this should have been the case. Most merchants had stocked up heavily with high-priced goods, and unreasonable weather last fall. But business men now realize that they were guilty of an error of judgment in proceeding on the assumption that high-level prices would hold up through the present winter. Bitterness against the federal reserve board which followed its action in "tightening up" on money has given way to a realization that this was the only effective way of stopping inflation of prices and of reducing them to the level on which a resumption of industrial and trade activities could be based.

There is yet much to be done in the work of readjustment, but a beginning has been made, and there is reason to believe that recovery is now getting under way. Predictions that workers would refuse to accept new conditions are now seen to have been unfounded.

Nothing is to be gained by enlarging on the condition of unemployment, but all should join in the spread of optimism, for a great deal will depend on the state of mind in which the nation approaches solution of the industrial problem. The principle of common sense functioned in bringing present conditions about; it should operate to help in overcoming them.

THOROUGHBREDS AND JACKASSES.

From the Gulf Coast Lumberman.

The Baldwin locomotive works got an order for a monster locomotive. It was shipped in fifteen days.

"How did you do it?" one of the officials was asked.

"Organization," he responded. "Organization is the art of getting men to respond like thoroughbreds. When you cluck to a thoroughbred he gives you all the speed and strength of heart and sinew he has in him. When you cluck to a jackass he kicks."

Here is an illustration worthwhile, which surely applies to men as well as lower animals.

A wonderful thing is the ability to respond with complete efficiency whenever called upon.

And a more wonderful thing is to be able to get other men to respond that way when you call upon them. That is what the great men of industry—as well as of war—have been able to accomplish.

CREDIT.

This year will bring unsettled times, because of readjusting; the merchant princes need their dimes, and they'll be slow at trusting. They'll not give credit left and right as lately they've been doing, and frowns will greet the slow-pay wight who'd buy a plug of chewing. And many men this year, I guess, will need a slice of credit, for readjustment brings distress—the banking sharps have said it. Now he who's kept his stand-off bright will know the easy sledding, and merchant princes will delight to sell him books or bedding. However stringent money is, the lamps for him are burning; to see his good old honest phiz, the merchants all are yearning. And if he asks to buy on time a grindstone or a hammer, the dealers on his person clumb, with glad, exultant clamor. There'll never be a time so tight that men of reputation for having always acted right, can't get accommodation. A reputation as good pay is better far than rubies, and men who do not think that way must travel with the boobies. The melancholy days are here, suspended "tick" will daunt them; and bills they should have paid last year will rise like ghosts and haunt them.

THERE WILL BE TIME ENOUGH FOR SYMPATHY AFTER THOSE IN THE BACKGROUND HAVE DISGORGED

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

A little stir was created in the vicinity of the Atlas hotel yesterday by the forcible ejection of a fellow from the office. The police investigated and found that he had insisted on getting something to eat at the lunch counter when he had nothing to pay for it. On being refused he raised a disturbance and a table with its contents was overturned.

About twenty carloads of ice have been received here within the past day or two and packed in the Pan Handle ice house in this city. The ice was brought from Logansport, Ind., and is about eight inches in thickness and of fine quality. shipments are being made through this city of immense wagons with very high wheels and peculiar shape. They are being manufactured by a Springfield firm and are being sent to Mexico where they will be used in hauling ore.

The name of Patrick Lane is today announced as a candidate for assessor in the Fifth Ward, subject to the general election in April. "Patsy" is too well known in the Fifth to need any introduction, but we may say that he is entirely worthy and should be elected he would fill the duties of the office in an acceptable manner.

LONDONERS TRY "BACKBONE TICKLE" AS CURE FOR COLDS AND LUMBAGO

London, Feb. 3.—Have you tried the backbone tickle to cure your cold? An American medical man, Dr. D. R. J. Waters, has put his plate in South Molton Street as a backbone magician and is treating all manner of patients, from baronets to boxers. He is a big-chested, broad-shouldered citizen of the United States this doctor man, who is as active as a youngster of fifteen, for all that he is sixty years of age.

He has university diplomas in every pocket. He will bring them out like a bunch of unanswered letters and talk like a river in a flood. He never stops from the moment you enter his medical parlor until he waves a graceful adieu.

Dr. Waters works on the theory that all the essential nerves of the body come from the spine, and the ordinary ailments which make life uncomfortable are caused by pressure on the nerves. Manipulate the backbone cells and presto, the patient is a fit man! His flexible fingers flicker up and down a man's spine. What is the trouble Lumbago? A bang, a press toward a man's spine. "And now that's put right," says the doctor. Is it a cold? A tickle, a flick, and a crack, and "no more cold" from the doctor. People who have been thoroughly backbone tickled say his cures are remarkably effective.

A daily Express representative who had his backbone well and truly thumped yesterday came away feeling like a Spring morning and with an over-the-bounding-heather walk. He has not sneezed since.

"There are eight million people in London," said the doctor, "and I am going to make them all fit. What a future!"

With The Women of Today

According to Miss Martha O'Sears, who calls herself "business adviser for business women," ignorance of simple banking procedure deters many women from having bank accounts. To meet this condition a New York bank has organized a department especially for the business woman and Miss Sears has been made head of the department. The variety of personal assistance rendered to puzzled and inexperienced girls and women since the opening of the department shows a definite need for such banking service for women.

Miss Sears is called upon daily to solve for perplexed feminine customers their problems of foreign exchange sale of bonds cutting coupons trustworthy investments, systematic savings and other economic matters in which they have had insufficient experience. Miss Sears herself has had years of training in financial circles. In her opinion timidly in revealing to men bankers their lack of business training, as well as frequent failure of business men to realize the complexities of a financial problem from a woman's point of view, are the main reasons for the large number of women who own no bank account even after a long period of wage earning.

Though the service of her department Miss Sears has set hundreds of women on the road to business self-reliance and financial security.

Odd Bits About Women

Policemen in Boston have a suite of rooms at police headquarters which are furnished in pearl and gray and gold, with expensive mirrors, soft lounges and easy chairs.

Due to the efforts of the French women's council a school of commerce for girls has been founded in France as well as a technical school for girls.

New Orleans "is making elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, which is to meet in that city during Mardi Gras Week.

In Paris there is a woman producer of motion pictures, Germaine Dulac, whom the French claim has no superior and few equals.

Miss Mary Murphy has been appointed a member of the lackawanna, Pa., county poor board to succeed her father, who died.

MOTOR AIDS

In ascending a hill, as the motor slowly decreases speed, slowly retard the spark to correspond with the speed of the motor. Then you will not hear what is known as the spark knock which is more likely to sound like a squeal more than a knock.

Don't hog the middle of the street. Give the other driver an even chance and if he is in a greater hurry than you, allow him to pass. Stop your car when you come to a stopped street car and give the passengers plenty of time to alight and get to the sidewalk.

Have your carburetor adjusted to use the least mixture possible. It will avoid much carbon deposit. Stop all gasoline leakage and to do this, form the habit of shutting off the gasoline at the feed pipe. See that the piston rings fit tightly and that your cylinders hold the compression well.

When a single cell of your storage battery is sulphated or if the gravity of the solution is much below the other cells, the first cell should be cut out and given a slow charge individually until brought up to the condition of the other cells.

Motorists often drive their machines in street car tracks because of the more comfortable riding or to avoid bad roads. Such a practice is, however, detrimental to the tires. The continual grinding against the more or less sharp edges of the rails tends to cut the threads and what is more injurious weakens the fabric foundation construction of the tire.

There are three standard types of tires, the regular clincher, the straight wall detachable and the quick detachable clincher. It is always best to buy your tires of a reliable dealer and then you will seldom have any question of good wear. The difficulty of bad fitting tires can be generally traced to improper changing from one wheel to another.

When coasting down steep hills do not speed your engine. It is advisable in such cases, to throw the gear lever into neutral with the clutch engaged, as undue wear comes on the thrust bearing when only the clutch is thrown out.

Occasionally the cylinder head holding down nuts should be tightened and, if for any other reason the head is removed and then replaced, it should be tightened in place by turning the opposite nuts. This will tend to prevent the head from springing.

If the storage battery is not securely tight in its place, the vibration or the jolts from ordinary traveling, may possible break some of the jars.

When the clutch or brake pedal is depressed, there is often a scraping sound. This may be caused by the pedal arm touching the flywheel or the flywheel covering, before being forced against the rotating wheel.

FEEDING THE BABY

Ravenna, O., Feb. 2.—A row said to have resulted when he attempted to feed his two year old baby coffee is responsible for B. M. Galvin being held to the grand jury, a bond $500. to explain an alleged assault upon his wife.

Mrs. Galvin told the court she objected to the child being given coffee, on the belief it was too young for such beverage. She charges that thereupon Galvin became angered and beat her. Galvin is now in the county jail in default of bail.

SOME GENERAL PRINCIPAL

If you want to go in for a course of self-improvement, and if you are serious about it there are some general principals that you must understand first. Otherwise you might go wrong in some of your methods, or you just might believe hap-hazard advice which isn't of any account.

First of all you must understand the workings of the human machine—that is your own body. I do not mean to begin a discussion of physiology in this short space, though I do wish sometime you would get a book about it and read it up. I only want to say this—every day the body takes in new material in the way of food, drink and air. Every day it throws off waste, through the normal passages, and through the pores.

Therefore, the air you breathe must be pure—for it goes into the lungs, touches the blood, and burns up the poisons the blood carries there. If the air isn't pure, it can't do this work properly, and the poisons stay on—the least of the things they cause being pimples and blackheads.

Therefore, too, the food you eat must be the sort you yourself require to make flesh, or bone, or muscle or build up the nerve force—all depend upon what you, individually, happen to need. That's a matter for you to determine, with your doctor's help.

If you don't feel you can do it properly alone.

Therefore, also, you must exercise each day, to bring into play the bodily muscles that otherwise might grow flabby from disuse. And you must bathe every day—for bathing cleans the pores of the skin of the deposits, and poisons that are thrown off there leaving the skin free to "act," and to throw off more of the always accumulating waste.

F. M. G.—If your legs are too stout it is probable you are too stout all over. In this case the general reduction will also reduce your legs. Besides this, almost any form of healthy outdoor exercise will help bring your body to proper proportions.

Constant Reader—Wear your hair any way that is becoming, and never mind what happens to be in style. There is an old adage to the effect that the well-dressed woman sets the style but does not follow it. In other words, she wears what looks best on her, and looks so well that other people imitate her. If your hair is becoming dressed in a certain way, by all means wear it like that.

Elsie—You ask me the hardest question in the world when you ask me what to do to overcome self-consciousness. As you are very young, it is quite likely that you will overcome this habit yourself when you grow older. The only thing I can tell you is to make yourself so interested in the person you are with that you will forget yourself and think only of your companion.

OHIO FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS
By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick

STATE MEETING IN CINCINNATI

It is officially announced that the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in Cincinnati the third week in October. The invitation extended by the club women of Cincinnati has been formally accepted by the state executive committee. The Queen City entertained the fifth annual gathering of club women in 1899 and the news that the "Paris of America" is to be hostess for the second time to Ohio's club women will be received most cheerfully for they fully appreciate that Cincinnati has few rivals for hospitality.

BETTER ENGLISH

"Better English" ought to be the slogan every year throughout the year of every literary club. The Better English circle, of the Cincinnati Women's Club, is now in the midst of a program that might well be taken up advantageously next year by other clubs in the state. Mrs. Elmer G. Lawrence, leader of this circle, announces that the program is the most popular ever outlined by the circle. It has attracted wide attention. Here are the subjects: "The Value of Good Speech," "Diction of Use of the Best Word—How can I enlarge my Vocabulary?" "Phonetics," "Misuses and Slang," "Posters and Slogans," "Incorrect Forms," "Brevity, the Soul of Wit," "Synonyms," "Letter Writing and Postal Information," "Common Errors," "Pronunciation and Enunciation," "Literature as a Necessity," and "Charades and Play." An old fashioned spelling bee features the program with a symposium on national American speeches, a national exhibit of posters and question boxes.

OHIO FEDERATION NOTES

Col. E. A. Deeds, of Dayton, addressed a meeting of the Hamilton Federation of Womens Clubs in January, the meeting being followed by a reception at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. Mrs. Joseph Benson Foraker and Mrs. F. A. Hoadley, of Cincinnati, eloquently pleaded for the help of all women in the enterprise of the George Washington Memorial association.

Surpassing in brilliancy and attendance any similar event ever held by them, Youngstown club women conducted their annual luncheon at the Ohio in January. Five hundred attended. Mrs. J. F. William Ritter, the federation president, made a plea for women to work hard in an effort to solve the puzzle of reconstruction and civilization.

Mrs. Elmer G. Lawrence, Cincinnati, civic chairman of the state federation, recently returned from a trip through the East. While in Washington she visited General Federation headquarters to get in touch with the national civic program and plans in detail. Three things have been outlined by the General Federation for accomplishment in civic work. First, a citizenship day in every community, where the newly Americanized may be welcomed with appropriate speech and song; second that every woman must stand at attention at the passing of "Old Glory" and third, to memorize the words of "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner." Who knows these songs? Aside from the school children, comparatively very few.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson. We are two sisters; one of fourteen and one of eighteen. We do not use any cosmetics and we comb our hair simply and dress simply. We are fair-looking and neat in shape. We never have been out with fellows, and don't seem to know what makes us so attractive. Some of the most decent fellows have come to us and asked if we would marry them. We are big for our ages. There are ten in our family and we know how to keep house just like grown women.

We are more indoor girls. The thing we would like to know more than anything else is why there are so many prettier girls than we and yet we are liked more. We are friendly to every one who comes up and speaks to us. A policeman has asked one of us to marry him. Do you think we are liked by men because we are decent?

TWO HAPPY HEARTS.

Some people are born with charm while others have to cultivate it. Probably you have a pleasing personality which makes friends for you. Do not, however, spoil yourself by letting conceit make you over-confident. Be just as "decent" as you can and trust that when you are old enough the right man will admire you for your goodness.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man twenty-two years old and am in love with a girl twenty. We love each other dearly and want to get married, but the only thing that stands between us is our religion. She goes to one kind of church and I go to another. We both like our religion, but our parents do not want either of us to give up for the other.

Do you think we could be happy if we married and kept our own religion, or do you think I ought to turn to the girl's religion? Please give me your advice, for we love each other dearly and do not want to break up.

WAITING.

Such a decision should not be hastened. If I were you I would wait a year before promising anything in regard to religion. If you are as devoted to each other at the end of that time as you are now, I would advise marriage with the understanding that each is to keep his own religion. Of course there is the problem of bringing up the children. The mother usually feels that it is her right to take them into her religion. You must love your wife enough to be willing that she should do so. I am very firm in my belief that a man should not marry until he is twenty-five. He is not developed before then and does not know his mature likes.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl and am in love with a young man who is good-looking and respectable. I am quite sure he cares for me. I have gone places with him and he has always treated me decently.

I have been mean to him lately, but I heard something and it put me against him for a while, but I still care for him. Do you think it all right for me to keep company with him if he still cares for me. It would break my heart to part with him. My parents do not object to my going with him.

SUNSHINE.

You must use your own judgment about the thing you heard. If you feel the young man has not a good character, you should give him up.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl and I am going with a fellow who says he loves me, but he goes with other girls. Do you think he cares for me? I love him dearly.

SWEETHEART.

I do not think he loves you since he goes with other girls.

CLIPPING FROM SEMI-WEEKLY GAZETTE SHOWS HIGH PRICES PREVAILED YEARS AGO

You, who have been bewailing the high prices should have lived in the year 1813, when according to a clipping from the Semi-Weekly Gazette, preserved for 40 years by John Schultz, of near Xenia, commodities soared much higher than the point to which the late war boosted them.

The clipping is a copy of a story carried in the Springfield Gazette of an old account book found by a reporter in Springfield, Mass., of S. Henkle, Wilson and Co., merchants of that day, and some of the accounts are given as follows:

"John Lingle, debtor to one set coffee cups, $1.75 one set of china cups, $2.50; six bowls, $1.12 1-2; 2 glass tumblers, 37 1-2 cents; 1 square small handkerchief, 50 cents; 1 silk shawl for Katy Haines, $4.50.

Saul Henkle, debtor to 1-2 ounce camphore, 50 cents; 1 dozen shirt buttons, 25 cents.

Samson Hubbell, to 1 pound coffee, 44 cents; 1-2 ounce indigo, 15 1-2 cents.

Daniel McKinnon, to 1-2 pound of tea, $1.25.

Harry Van Meter, to 3 yards cambric muslin, $3.37 1-2.

Silas Arbogast, to 1 waist coat, $5.50; 2 yards domestic cotton, at $1.75 a yard.

Thomas Green, to 3 yards calico, at 75 cents per yard.

Samson Hubbell, debtor to 1 yard colored muslin, 62 1-2 cents.

Jacob Lingle to 1 roole 87 1-2c.

William Wilson, to 2 pounds of sugar, 62 1-2 cents.

James Steele, to half pound of pepper, 25 cents; one bottle British oil 37 1-2 cents.

Nathan Thresher, to one pound raisins, 50 cents.

Conrad Goodlove, to one vest shape, $1.87 1-2.

John Rosegrant, 3 cages, $5.25.

Zebulum Lewis, one hand saw $3.75.

John Hambleton, 3 yards chinch, $2.62 1-2.

W. H. Cartmell, two gun flints, 12 1-2 cents.

Samuel Martin, 11 lights of glass, 8x10, $1.37 1-2.

Abram Yeazell, one candlestick, 62 1-2 cents; 2 pounds of chocolates 88 cents.

William Morris, 10 lbs sugar, 4 pounds and 14 ounces, $2.12 1-2.

Phillip Kizer, 10 yards of bed ticken, $8.75; 1 1-2 gross of buttons, $3.

Mr. Shipman, 3 yards of ribbon, 84 1-2 cents.

According to these prices, sugar was 31 cents a pound, which is at least a cent higher than it reached a year ago, camphor was $1 an ounce, buttons seemed to be scarce and therefore high priced and muslin and cotton goods were out of sight.

The 108 years difference however makes a big difference in consideration of the comparative prices, as the people of that day lived more simply than they do now.

TORPEDO-CARRYING HYDROPLANE TESTED

London, Feb. 2.—Before a representative gathering of foreign powers, including the United States Japan, Norway and Holland, the first public flight of a new torpedo-carrying hydroplane was carried out at Brough, near Hull, in ideal weather.

The plane, the building of which has been conducted with the utmost secrecy, is of an entirely new shape and is claimed to be something new in the way of torpedo-carrying craft.

Of the visitors some internal fittings were removed by order of the Air Ministry who desire that they should be kept secret.

OHIO PASTOR FAVORS SUNDAY BASEBALL, SAID

Columbus, Feb. 2.—"Sunday baseball is all right when it isn't commercialized," declared Rev. Dr. J. J. Tisdall, pastor of the Wilson Avenue Church of Christ, discussing the subject "What Can We Do on Sunday?"

Expressing the belief that everyone should go to church on Sunday morning, he advised that people, afternoons get out and enjoy God's great temple.

He recalled the adverse comment and denunciation heaped upon the heads of another clergyman and himself when they started Sunday amateur baseball games in another city.

But, he said, he saw 17,000 spectators at one of these Sunday games while he was in that city last summer on a visit.

LOCAL AMATEUR WIRELESS OPERATORS COMPETE FOR PRIZE

Local amateur wireless operators have received notice from W. Kirwan, Box 148, Davenport, Ia., of the sending of a 30-word message from President-elect Warren G. Harding, as a Washington's birthday relay, on February 22, and as a test for amateur operators who will compete for prizes in receiving the message.

The message will be relayed from certain sending stations in each district and receivers to deliver the message to any City, County, State or National officials, have it received and then sent to Kirwan, to compete for the several thousands of dollars worth of prizes that are being offered.

The message is being sent out to inspire good natured rivalry between operators of the United States and Canada and to give operators a chance to do long distance receiving and afford operators a big event for the year, to show the new President elect what the amateur operators of the country can do and to stimulate interest in wireless throughout the world.

In order to make the message more difficult 14 words will be sent from the Atlantic and 14 from the Pacific, while the two last words will be sent from a central receiving station. The words will be received alternating so that the message will have to be pieced together and the report of the prize winners will be published in the wireless magazine after the prizes have been awarded. The message will start at 8:10 o'clock in the evening.

Walter Galloway, South Detroit street, who now has most of the equipment formerly used by Lyon Galloway, Frederick Schell, north Galloway street, Roger Lynn, High street, and William McCormick, North Detroit street, are the local amateur operators who will attempt to receive the message and compete for the prizes offered.

OHIO AND NEW YORK NECK AND NECK ON NUMBER OF MOTORS

Ohio and New York are still running a close race for the honor of having the largest number of motor vehicles.

Official registration figures from the two states received by the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company show that New York was still leading on December 31, last, but by a very small margin. Ohio had made great inroads into New York's lead of a year before and gave indications of passing the eastern state before another year is passed.

The final figures showed that New York had 658,165 motor vehicles as compared with Ohio's 632,585. On December 31, 1919, New York had 566,511 and Ohio 511,031.

Ohio actually led New York in the number of passenger cars, having 538,090 as compared with New York's 519,272. New York more

X-RAY WILL MAKE ALL GIRLS BEAUTIFUL IT IS NOW CLAIMED

Paris, Feb. 3.—The ladies, "God Bless 'em," as Mark Twain said, will soon all be beautiful at a trifling cost. Remaking the entire female nervous system, resulting in the rejuvenating of even aged women, rebalancing their visages, destroying their wrinkles, filling up their cheeks, restoring the sparkle of youth to their eyes is a comparatively simple operation.

It is done by means of an X-ray, those by which the rays of light are injected into the optical nerve of the patient. At least this is the explanation of Prof. Guide Holzknecht, of the Vienna Roentgen Ray Institute. It is officially announced from Vienna today that: "Of 100 women operated upon 30 have been absolutely and completely rejuvenated and made to look younger than their own daughters. "Not only beauty, but youthful vigor was restored practically instantaneously," except in cases of incurable disease."

The other 70 women were all afflicted with different maladies preventing the complete success of the experiment, but all of them were marvelously benefited. The fee for the operation is announced at 20,000 crowns, which at the present rate of exchange is approximately $50.

SAYS HIS PRESCRIPTION HAS POWERFUL INFLUENCE OVER RHEUMATISM

Mr. James H. Allen who suffered for many years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work. He finally decided after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Sayre & understanding that they will freely re-Heimphill have been appointed agents for Allenhu in this vicinity with the turn the purchase money to all who state they received no benefit.

CABLE WIRELESS ROUTE TO SHIPS ENTERING HARBOR

London, Jan. 31.—World-wide interest has been aroused in the working of the "radio" pilot cable laid at the bottom of the channel leading to Portsmouth, which enables fog-bound vessels to steer by sound an accurate course into the harbor.

"There is no connection between the ship and the cable other than the magnetic waves that are radiated from the cable," said an expert.

"The cable is laid beneath the exact course to be followed by shipping, and its 'free' end is out at sea—the Portsmouth cable is about twenty miles long. The high-frequency electric current in the cable emits a certain note in Morse code.

CORONER RENDERS
SUICIDE VERDICT
IN DOCTOR'S DEATH

Funeral arrangements for Dr. W. S. Ritenour, 721 Salem Avenue, Dayton, former Ballbrook and Xenia physician, whose body was found near Dayton Wednesday have not yet been completed.

The body is being held at the undertaking establishment of Bradford and Routzong in Dayton, pending completion of the arrangements. Relatives are awaiting word from James Turner, brother-in-law of Dr. Ritenour, who recently started on a Southern trip, and is in Texas now, before completing the arrangements. Burial, however, will be made in Bellbrook, according to relatives.

Coroner Jesse Kimmell, of Montgomery county, returned a verdict of suicide by taking carbolic acid, following an investigation of the case Wednesday. The body of the physician was found on the bank of a creek near Alexandersville Wednesday, after he had been missing since Tuesday morning. His abandoned automobile was standing on a road near by and first attracted the attention of a farmer, who notified Dayton police.

Beside the body was found an empty two ounce bottle, which had contained poison and a graduated glass. In the pockets were found another two ounce bottle of poison and a six ounce bottle of grain alcohol. A note of January 26, saying merely "good bye to all," was found in his pocket.

John S. Turner, of Bellbrook, father-in-law of Dr. Ritenour, who is now in Dayton, is authority for the statement that his son-in-law was discouraged. Tuesday morning he left his home in his automobile saying that he had to perform an operation. When he did not return Tuesday night, it was learned he had not been to the hospital. When his body was discovered Wednesday his mouth was severely burned by the acid he had taken, and there were footprints leading only one direction from the automobile he had left on the roadside.

The suicide of Dr. Ritenour was a shock to his many friends here and in Bellbrook, and to members of the local medical fraternity. Born near Jamestown, 39 years ago. Dr. Ritenour began the practice of medicine in Ross county, where he has many relatives. Later he practiced in Bellbrook, being married there ten years ago, to a daughter of John S. Turner, prominent retired farmer. Later he was a member of the staff at the McClellan Hospital, this city.

When the United States entered the war, Dr. Ritenour enlisted in the public health service, holding the position of first assistant surgeon at Camp McClelland, Alabama. After his discharge he came north and established a practice in Dayton a year ago with an office on South Brown street. Besides his wife, one son, Turner Ritenour, survives.

CALLED BY DEATH
LATE WEDNESDAY

Miss Margaret Whittington, 86 years of age, passed away at the home of her brother, Nathaniel Whittington, 4 miles east of Cedarville, at 9:50 Wednesday evening, of a complication of diseases.

Miss Whittington is survived by one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards of Greenville, Ohio, and her brother, Nathaniel Whittington, with whom she had made her home.

The deceased was a member of the Reformed Presbyterian Church at Cedarville. Funeral services will be held at that church, at one o'clock, Friday afternoon, and will be in charge of Reverend Harriman. Burial will be made at the Caesarcreek cemetery near Jamestown.

BROTHERS LOCATE
PARENTS FINALLY

Holyoke, Mass., Feb. 2.—Separated from their parents in the excitement and disorder attending the Chelsea fire, in 1908, two brothers, Edward and Eric Bailey, aged eighteen and twenty-two years respectively, have located their mother in Jamaica. They have left the farm of A. L. Green, where they have been working and will reunite her.

The boys were taken by the State following the fire and for several years have been placed on farms to work.

Since the fire the parents of the boys have separated and each married again.

BRITISH COPS EXPERT IN RIOTS: CARRY NO GUNS

London, Feb. 3.—The easy —almost apologetic—way in which the British policeman handles a crowd always impresses a stranger, particularly an American.

The British "bobby" has had a number of opportunities lately of demonstrating this manner of his—and he will, no doubt, have a great many more chances this Winter with its many unemployment parades.

During recent disturbances all the newspapers—with the exception of the Bolshevik organ—commented on the good temper and restraint shown by the police in their very difficult job.

It must be remembered that the British policeman does not carry a revolver. His only weapon is a short "billy," which he calls a baton and this is hidden away in his pocket, to be drawn and used only on the greatest provocation. When using it he must be careful not to hit his opponent over the head with it, but must strike him only on the arms or body.

In addition, he is hampered with an oldskin cape which he carries rolled up and slung from his belt. This of course, is in his way when he is defending himself or attacking a crowd. He occasionally finds it of use, however as a weapon and it is certainly of more value in dispersing a crowd than is the little "billy."

During the Whitehall riots last Fall it was a funny sight to see a long line of policemen advancing against a mob lustily swinging their capes—which rolled in a tight bundle made a very effective "night stick."

The cape has the additional advantage as well, of knocking a rioter down—and leaving no mark.

It is certainly a liberal education to see a platoon of English police "moving on" a crowd. First they stand in a line, looking rather bored at the whole proceedings. Then they move out together and, locking arms, try to force the crowd along by sheer pressure. When they succeed in getting it on the move, then they separate and break it up into small parties, all the time saying "move along, please," or "don't stop please."

Always the "please" and if they have to draw the "batons" they seem to hit with great care so as to do as little damage as possible.

But when they really lose their tempers and see some of their comrades struck down—then the best

"PRETTIEST WOMAN ON BOAT," VERDICT

This piquant young matron was voted "the prettiest woman on board the liner La France," which arrived in New York recently. With the great numbers of movie stars, actresses and society girls who are sailing for Europe or returning home on each trip, that is quite some tribute.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Four 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes. SO WEAK SO NERVOUS

How Miserable This Woman Was Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toomsboro, Ga.—"I suffered terribly with backache and headache all the time, was so weak and nervous I didn't know what to do, and could not do my work. My trouble was deficient and irregular periods. I read in the papers what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to give it a trial. I got good results from its use so that I am now able to do my work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to mine and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. C. F. PHILLIPS, Toomsboro, Ga.

Weak, nervous women make unhappy homes, their condition irritates both husband and children. It has been said that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous despondency, "the blues," irritability and backache arise from some displacement or derangement of a woman's system. Mrs. Phillips' letter clearly shows that no other remedy is so successful in overcoming this condition as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

SEEK TO CLIMB CHIMNEY OF WORLD, MOUNT EVEREST

London, Feb. 3.—The Alpine Club and the Royal Geographical Society acting in concert will send this year a climbing party to Tibet who will make a great effort to reach the summit of Mount Everest.

Such an expedition must be essentially a great adventure. Mount Everest, the highest known peak in the Himalayas, or the world, is 29,002 feet in altitude. Even the approaches are unknown as yet to Europeans. The pioneers will encounter risks from icy slopes, rocky precipices, avalanches intense cold, terrific winds and blinding snowstorms.

In addition there will be the unknown factor of the capacity of a human being to stand great exertion at a height more than 4,000 feet higher than man has ascended any mountain.

A Reconnaissance party will be sent out the end of May to acquire the fullest possible knowledge of the geography of the region. Their task will be to explore all the approaches to the mountain through country at present entirely unknown.

The attempt to reach the top of Mount Everest will be the greatest feat in the history of mountain climbing.

Better than Pills

YOU WILL NEVER wish to take another dose of pills after having once used Chamberlain's Tablets. They are easier and more pleasant to take, more gentle and mild in their action and more reliable. They leave the bowels in a natural condition, while the use of pills is often followed by severe constipation, requiring a constant increase in the dose. Every bottle guaranteed by your druggist.

Chamberlain's Tablets

tration on the proposed treaty between the United States and Japan it was learned today. Numerous conferences must be held and much work must be done before even a preliminary draft of the proposed instrument can be attempted.

Even if this work could be pushed through, and the treaty sent to the senate before March 4, it would be referred promptly to the committee on foreign relations, and hearings and discussions before that body would undoubtedly consume any remaining time.

STOMACH GAVE HER YEARS OF TORTURE

Could hardly stand on her feet. Eats anything now.

"For years I suffered with stomach trouble in its worst form. It was so bad at times I could hardly stand on my feet. I lost my appetite and what little I did eat formed gas in my stomach so bad that it bloated me all up, and caused me to suffer with shortness of breath and pains around my heart. I was completely worn out and felt bad all the time."

"I saw Milk's Emulsion advertised in the daily papers and decided to try it, and I want to tell you I commenced to improve before I finished the first bottle. My appetite has returned and I can now eat anything without any trouble afterwards. My stomach trouble has entirely disappeared and I sleep like a log every night. In fact I feel as well as I ever did."—Mrs. O. J. Zecha, 535 Charles St., St. Paul, Minn.

The blessed relief which Milk's Emulsion gives in stomach trouble, is only part of its good work. The benefit is both prompt and lasting. It costs nothing to try.

Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. It helps build flesh and strength, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 75c and $1.50 per bottle. The Milk's Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

WALL PAPER STORE TO CHANGE LOCATION

Fred F. Graham, wall paper and paint dealer and interior and exterior decorator, is planning to move his business from its Green street location, to the Hornick building on South Whiteman street, which he recently purchased and which he formerly occupied.

The South Whiteman street building, where Mr. Graham conducted his business for a number of years before purchasing the business of Charles S. Johnson on Green street, some time ago, will be remodeled for his occupancy and the removal will take place March 1.

Carpenters will start to work next week remodeling the building, with an outside stairway between the two storerooms on the ground floor, giving access to the second story where two modern flats will be constructed. The flats will be about five rooms each with bath and modern improvements.

The Mullen-Jenkins Tobacco Co., which has its wholesale headquarters in one of the store rooms, will continue to occupy that room and Mr. Graham will only occupy one of the business rooms, instead of both of them as formerly. He will put a new front in the business room and otherwise remodel it for his own occupancy.

ONE FOX CAPTURED IN DRIVE; FOUR ESCAPE HUNTERS

One live fox was caught by hunters who participated in the fox drive held in the vicinity of Whitehall near Yellow Springs Wednesday. The hunters numbered 2,500, it is said.

Five foxes were chased up in the huge ring that was formed by the hunters, but four of the group managed to make their escape. The fifth fox took refuge on the Edwards farm, where it was penned up, and taken alive by W. R. Mongold, of 508 East Pleasant street, Springfield. The animal was sold for $5 to a Miss Bauer of Springfield, after being bid in and returned many times, until its total value amounted to $132. The highest individual bid was $14 by the Whitehall farm, while Edward Weigle, Ralph M. Temple and Kenneth Stones, bid the animal in a group for $15.

At noon the ladies of the Bethel church at Husted served luncheon to the hunters at Whitehall, and in the afternoon a clay pigeon shoot was enjoyed, turkeys being offered as the prizes for the best shooting. The honors were carried off by C. A. Young of Springfield.

Wednesday night a large crowd attended the dance in the Yellow Springs opera house that was the climax to the day's festivities.

VIVID DESCRIPTION OF INVASION OF ARMENIA GIVEN

A vivid description of the invasion of an Armenian town by the dreaded Turk, has been given by Edward Fox, of Pottsville, Pa., who has just returned from his post as Near East Relief director at Kars.

"On the morning of October 30th of last year," reports Mr. Fox, "the town was quiet except for the ominous sound the firing in the distance. I feared then that it meant the Turks were coming but we all went about the business of the day, hoping that our alarm was unfounded. Railroad communication with Alexandropol had been cut off previously by the Turks and we knew that what ever happened it was up to us to stay by and help the inhabitants of the city.

At noon we watched the military operations in the valley through field glasses, and there was nothing for it but to conclude that the Turks were forcing the pitifully small Armenian army back to Kars.

"Suddenly a shell burst near the railroad station and from that moment the town was in the utmost confusion. The entire population burst out of doors with all the luggage they could carry on their backs and piled in carts and loaded upon animals. The panic was terrible. The principal idea in the mind of everyone was to get out of town and it was estimated that 30,000 evacuated within half an hour.

"I visited the orphanages and hospitals in rapid succession to find our brave American men and women ready for the emergency, protecting with their own lives the little ones in their care. A Turkish officer approached and promised me that he would place a guard about the American buildings and so I left for the valley with my mind at ease.

"I found plenty to do for many weary hours. Those soldiers who could still be helped were sent back to our hospitals and we hurriedly buried their comrades who had been left on the battle field in the wake of the devastating Turks.

"When we returned to the city we were astonished to see the inmates of the orphanages crowded in the streets in a state of object terror. They were suffering the most unbelievable insults at the hands of the soldiers whose leader had promised protection. Our own workers were being forced to march from one spot to another at the whim of the men.

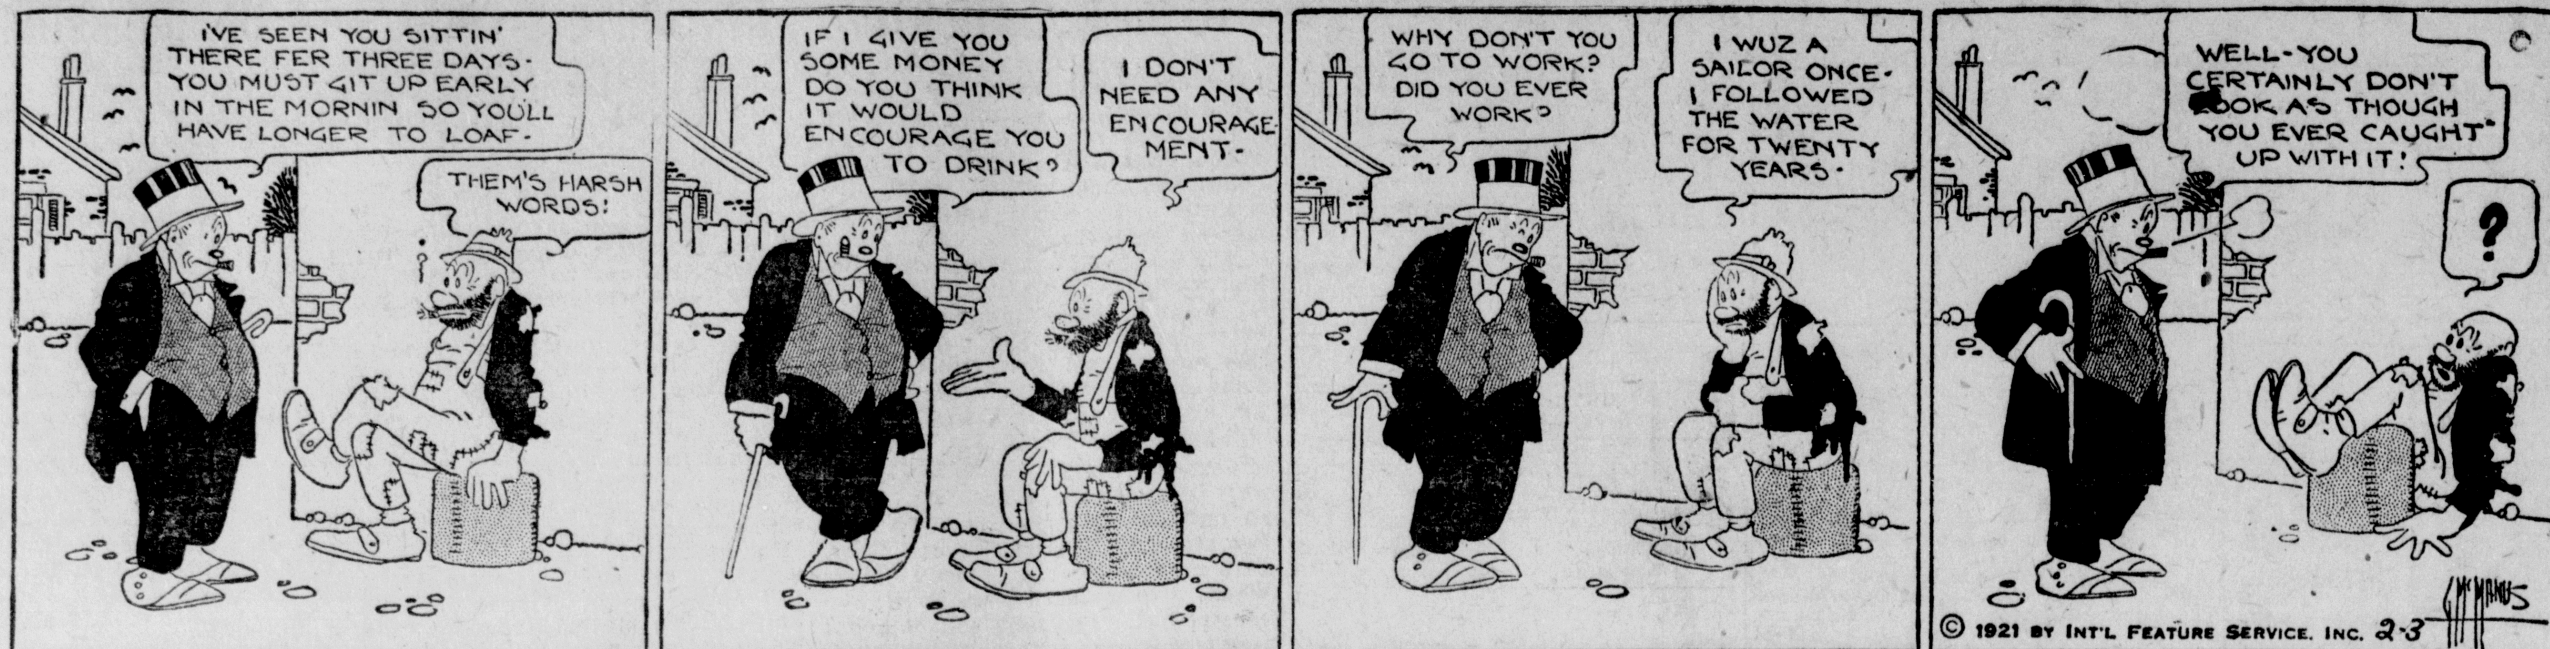

"In desperation I hurried out to find Kasim Pascha, the general in command. I took him to our schools and finally he saw that order was restored.

"The greatest problem came in the feeding of the thousands of refugees who looked to us of the American committee, to help them. For days they lived entirely on the raw wheat and barley from the fields and when that was gone there began a period of

TESTED RECIPES

An Oven Dinner—Procure a slice of steak, from two to three pounds, and one bunch of celery—wash and break in about eight-inch lengths. Put celery on the steak. Salt and pepper freely. Then roll steak around celery and tie and put in center of roaster.

Peel six small onions, six potatoes, four turnips (or parsnips), cut in pieces if large. Arrange these around steak in roaster. Salt and pepper to taste. One-half dozen cloves and a little parsley sprinkled over them add to the flavor. Put in one quart of boiling water, cover and roast about one and one-half hours.

Macaroni and Corn—Boil one-half package macaroni in salted water ten minutes, drain and in cold water.

To one well beaten egg add one cup of cooked corn, one cup milk, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon sugar. Mix with macaroni and bake half an hour.

Apple Fluff—One egg, three baked apples, strained and mashed if necessary. Beat the white of the egg until stiff and dry. Sweeten. Add apples and beat. Put in sherbets and serve with the following sauce: One tablespoon butter, two tablespoons honey, one tablespoon dry bread crumbs, beaten yolk of egg. Beat for three minutes, cook until syrup. The sauce may be omitted.

Apple Baking Powder Biscuits—Take two cups sifted flour, four teaspoons baking powder, two tablespoons lard, one-quarter teaspoon salt, mix, add enough water to mix soft dough, place on floured board, roll out and cut with biscuit cutter, insert thick slice of apple on top of each biscuit with sugar, cinnamon and dot of butter, bake. These are fine.

Bread Muffins—Three cups bread crumbs, two and one-half cups of milk, one cup flour, three eggs, one tablespoon melted butter, two teaspoons baking powder, one-quarter teaspoon salt.

Cover the crumbs with milk and let soak fifteen minutes. Beat to a paste and add the beaten egg yolks, flour, salt, baking powder and the melted butter. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in buttered muffin pans in a quick oven twenty minutes.

TO SALT NUTS
Peanuts and almonds are most reasonably priced. Shell the peanuts, remove the paper-like skin and then place in a fine wire basket. Plunge into smoking hot fat and cook until a light brown. Turn on a plate covered with a paper napkin and salt. Almonds may be blanched before salting.

Shell the almonds and then place in a bowl and pour boiling water over the shelled nuts. Let stand for fifteen minutes and then drain. Slip the almond from its skin. Let the nuts dry for one hour and then place into smoking hot fat. Cook until a light brown. Shake dry and then turn on a plate covered with a paper napkin and salt.

The Woman He Married

BY JANE PHELPS

AN UNSUCCESSFUL SEARCH

CHAPTER 81

Although annoyed that Junior had wandered off, as I supposed, or had gone into one of the neighboring houses, I was not frightened. No thought that anything serious had happened or could happen in this small town occurred to me. So I went back into the house for my hat, then started out again to look for the little runaway.

I went to the neighbors we knew, those who often stopped to speak to Junior when he played in the yard on pleasant days, but no one had seen nor heard of him.

"He's probably gone to meet Dick," I said aloud recalling the time in Holden when he started to find his daddie.

But when I walked in the direction of the bank, choosing the same route I had often taken when Junior and I went to meet Dick, I saw nothing of my boy, and became worried. But even then I was not frightened. Yet I went on. It was nearly time for the bank to close. I would run in and see if he could possibly have gone all the way there alone.

"What is it Nan?" Dick asked when I went in, "Has anything happened?"

"Yes, no, I don't know! Junior was playing on the sand pile calling to me. Then he didn't call any more and I ran out to see if he was all right, and he was gone. I looked all over the neighborhood but couldn't find a trace of him, and so I came down here. He might have tried to come to meet me, I thought."

"No, but he's all right! The little rascal has probably gone visiting. He's a natural runaway. We'll have to make him stay in the yard."

But I called at every house where the people knew him.

Just then Mr. Peabody, the president of the bank, came into the office. He spoke pleasantly to me turned to Dick:

"Anything wrong, Williams?" Dick looked anxious.

"No, I think I hope not! Mrs. Williams allowed our little boy to play in the sandpile outside the yard, and he has wandered away."

"It's three o'clock, you go and help locate the little man. I used to run away when I was his age, I remember hearing my mother say, every time I got a chance. I am sure nothing has happened him."

Dick hurried out with me after thanking Mr. Peabody, but though we separated and searched every place we could think of we found no trace of him.

I asked everyone I met if they had seen a little boy, and described the way Junior was dressed. Finally a small girl said she had seen a man taking a little boy to ride in his car.

"He was a nice man, he took him for a ride," she said in her childish way.

"Which way did they go?"

She pointed the way, and as Dick had gone in that direction I hurried to overtake him.

"The little boy took his pail and shovel riding too," the child called after me, so removing all doubts as to its being Junior.

"A man took him riding in his car," I called when I reached Dick's side, breathless. I had run part of the way.

"People shouldn't do such things. They should know parents would be anxious, especially about such a little chap."

Dick proposed we go back and question the little girl who evidently was the only person who had seen Junior. She added nothing to her story, save to tell us that Junior was laughing, and that there wasn't no back seat in the car.

"A runaway, probably," Dick remarked. Then: "I shall go to the police station, Nan Junior is very likely all right, and having the time of his life, but it is over an hour since you came to the bank, so he must have been gone about two hours. The fellow who took him may have tire trouble or something." I knew he meant, might have an accident, but that he didn't want to frighten me.

I insisted upon going to the police station with Dick. A motorcycle officer soon started up the road the little girl had said the man took, while Dick and I continued our search of the town. But after a bit, Dick said:

"I can't believe anything but an accident to the car would make that man keep a little child away from his home like this. I'll get a car and a doctor, and go after him too, that motorcycle policeman may have located them, and can direct us."

I longed to go too, but when Dick told me it was unwise, that Junior might be brought back, I said no more.

"The fellow might come back another way," Dick argued, when I begged to be taken, "and Junior be frightened not to find either of us."

TRANSPORTATION CRISIS FACES UNITED STATES

WAGE QUESTION CAUSES BITTER FRAME OF MIND

Tieup Of Roads May Result From Possible Wage Decrease.

DISCONTENT IS SEEN

President Wilson Maintains Silence Regarding Requests.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The spectre of a transportation tie up is hovering over the nation today as the result of threats to reduce railroad wages, according to labor leaders here.

Railroad workers embittered over wage conditions, are even now threatening to leave their work, leaders here declare. While the heads of the railroad labor organizations refuse to predict a strike in the event that railroad wages are reduced, they declare that the nation will face a transportation crisis and intimate that the men will simply refuse to work at reduced wages, whether their leaders want them or not.

There has been a rumbling of discontent in labor circles for many months as the result of the failure of the railroad labor board to grant the full wage demands of the workers and the granting of increased rates to the railroads. This discontent is steadily mounting and if wages are reduced leaders assert they will not be able to hold their men in line.

Keep Men At Work
"The hardest job we have right now is to keep the men at their work," said E. C. Davison, secretary of the International Machinists organization today. The International Machinists embraces a majority of the railroad shop workers.

"The men are bitter," said Davison. "They want to throw up their jobs and quit working now. Our task is to keep them on the job. I don't want to talk strike. I don't know what the men will do if wages are reduced, but I know that it will be next to impossible to hold the men in line. If I were a shop worker and wages were reduced I would throw up my job right away and if necessary I would leave the trade."

"The railroad men made enormous sacrifices during the war. They lived under terrible conditions but they kept the flow of supplies steadily going on. When the war was over and they saw the railroads being plundered they became bitter and they are more bitter now than ever."

"The railroads are not justified in reducing wages. Such talk as Atterbury's about the reduction of wages is a crime; and the men know it is a crime."

NO JUSTIFICATION

"The railroads were granted huge rate increases to meet the wage increases and the public is bearing the burden. The other seventy per cent of the increase hasn't gone for labor and the roads have no justification for talking wage reduction."

"We have the facts. We know the condition of the railroads. They can afford to pay five times as much for repair work done outside of their shops as they paid for it in their shops before the war and yet they talk of the need of reducing wages."

"I don't believe wages are going to be reduced for the men just won't work. I won't say there will be a strike if wages are reduced. I don't know, nobody knows, but I do know this, that it is a hard job to keep the men at work right now."

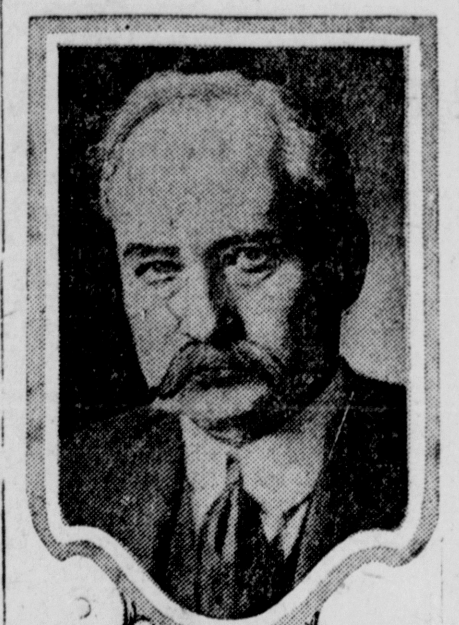

Washington, Feb. 3.—President Wilson has referred to John Barton Payne, director of the railroad administration the request of railroad union leaders for an investigation of proposals made by railway executives for wage reduction. The president also referred to Payne the statements of railway executives relative to the situation with regard to wage reductions.

WORKERS THREATEN GENERAL WALKOUT

Detroit, Feb. 3.—Walkout of 370,000 members of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers was predicted today if the national wage agreement is broken by railway officials and salaries are cut by S. J. Pegg, international grand secretary-treasurer of the union.

Thousands of the brotherhood's members embittered over present wage conditions are even now threatening to leave their work, he declared. While Mr. Pegg refused to predict a strike in the event wages are reduced, he declared the men will simply refuse to work for less money, whether the union officials want them to or not.

POLAND TO REDUCE BY HALF INDEMNITY WANTED FROM RUSS

Peace Negotiations Said To Be "Proceeding In Conciliatory Manner."

London, Feb. 3.—Poland has cut in half the amount of gold indemnity demanded from soviet Russia for damages done when Poland was overrun by bolshevik troops last summer according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen today quoting advice received by the Danish newspaper Politiken from Riga.

According to the Politiken's correspondent the Russo-Polish peace negotiations which have been dragging on at Minsk and Riga for five months are "proceeding in a conciliatory manner" and a number of economic questions have already been considered.

On the other hand information received from Riga indicated that the negotiations have reached an unsatisfactory stage and that a deadlock is probable. The chief obstacles, according to word received here are the questions of Russian reparations and the size of the Polish neutrality zones.

BRITISH OPTIMISTIC ON INDEMNITY

London, Feb. 3.—There is an optimistic feeling in British official circles that a satisfactory solution will be reached on the indemnity question despite the furor of resentment aroused in Germany over the amount imposed by the allies, said the diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph today.

The pronouncement of Dr. Simons the German foreign minister that the sum of indemnity fixed by the allies was unsatisfactory was discounted in advance in official circles, declares the correspondent.

CHAOS PREVAILS IN BOTH HOUSES ON LEGISLATION

Pending Legislation Has Fallen Into Serious Jam.

MANIFEST CONCERN Efforts Being Made To Restore Some Semblance Of Order.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Republican leaders of the senate and house buckled down today to the difficult task of trying to restore some semblance of order from the chaotic state into which pending legislation has fallen.

The Republican steering committee of both chambers got together in the hope of being able to patch up a program that would prevent at least some of the minor appropriation bills from being bequeathed to the new congress.

The seriousness of the legislative jam is giving the Republican leaders grave concern, if only because of the expressed desire of President-elect Harding that all of the appropriation bills be disposed of at this session.

Efforts Unavailing.
Efforts to unravel the political snarl over the emergency tariff bill in the senate have thus far proven unavailing. The bill's Democratic opponents have turned the tables on the Republican leaders. From the attitude of seeking to prevent a vote on the bill with a filibuster, the Democrats have switched to one of ostensibly striving to force a vote by the middle of the month. They have blocked the Republican plan, supposed to have its culmination in the defeat of closure to lay the tariff measure aside for the rest of the session and take up the first of 12 appropriations bills still pending.

The Democrats have jockeyed the Republicans into now opposing a vote, though apparently willing to enter into an unanimous consent agreement for the fixing of a time for one.

Through the maneuvers of the Democrats, the tariff bill still remains the "unfinished business" of the senate thereby taking precedence over all other legislation pending before that body. The senate has passed but one of thirteen appropriation bills, that providing for the financial requirements of the district of Columbia for the next fiscal year.

HOLD XENIA YOUTHS ALLEGED TO HAVE BEATEN UP MAN

Edward Fogwell and Bert Blair Are Arrested In Dayton.

With the arrest by Dayton police of Edward Fogwell, and his son, Ernest of Osborn, both former Xenians, and also Bert Blair, of this city, it is believed that the reported robbery of Mike Rasanski, Dayton, who said he had been robbed by three men Wednesday night, has been cleared up.

Rasanski told the police he was playing pool late Wednesday night when three men approached him and said "Come with us." He said he complied, thinking he was under arrest. The four got into the automobile, alleged to have been stolen from Mrs. Maude Fogwell, of Osborn, and according to Rasanski, when they were a short distance from town, he was beaten by three men, robbed of $325 and thrown out of the car.

Fogwell is alleged to have told the Dayton Police that Rasanski borrowed his still and refused to return it so the trio went after it. They were using Fogwell's automobile he said. He told the police that when they were unable to find the still, they had given Rasanski a good licking. Under cross examination Rasanski said he did not remember now whether he was robbed. Bert Blair, implicated in the arrest by a dispatch from Dayton, could not be reached here Thursday afternoon.

Paris, Feb. 3.—Skirts are going to be much longer in Paris this spring, it is not because of denunciation by clergymen. They declare that the high cost of silk stockings made it economical for women to wear longer dresses, hiding stockings with cotton piers. Gowns in the late plays are now being put on here reveal skirts to the wearer's ankles.

DAVIS TO RE-ORGANIZE STATE GOVERNMENT

Sweeping Changes In Ohio Government—Mental Activities Planned—Would Create Ten Administrative Departments It Is Made Public.

Columbus, O., Feb. 3.—Sweeping reorganization of the Ohio Government—activities is contemplated in a plan made public by Governor Davis. This plan provides for the creation of ten administrative departments, but retains the state industrial, tax and public utilities commissions, in the capacity of quasi-judicial organizations, but short, as far as possible of administrative duties.

The governor's plan is based upon the present Illinois system of state government. Gov. Davis recommends legislation providing for state departments of finance, commerce, public works, agriculture, health, labor, registration, education, public welfare and military. Recommending retention of the elective officials lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer and attorney general as provided by the state constitution, he favors transferring the administration duties of these officials to the ten proposed departments. The joint legislative committee on reorganization, it is said, has approved the general scheme of the governor's plan. At a conference between the governor and the committee members next Wednesday details will be considered.

"The state administration reorganization should now become an accomplished fact," said Governor Davis. "The proper committees of the legislature should agree upon an administrative code, which in one single legislative act, will provide for the proposed department heads. In the interest of economy and efficiency, it is highly desirable that details of administration be left to the heads of departments."

PASSENGER FARES IN OHIO INCREASE

Columbus, O., Feb. 3.—Effective today, Ohio passenger fares are 3.6c per mile. NATION WIDE PLAN TO UNITE PRODUCER AND USER STARTS

All American Farmer Labor Co-operative Congress Convenes.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 3.—An organized nation wide effort to bring together the producer and consumer—the man who tills the soil and the man who tills in the workshop and factory—will be inaugurated when the All-American Farmer-Labor-Co-operative congress convenes in B. of L. E. auditorium here on February 10, for a three day session.

Between 300 and 400 delegates, representing farmers' organizations, labor organizations and various progressive units will be present, when the congress meets in its attempts to solve the double angled problem—lower costs of foodstuffs to consumers; better prices to the producers.

Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and one of the chief promoters of the congress, talked interestingly of the project to the International News Service.

"It is the only solution of the problem," he said. "Farmers throughout the agricultural sections today are selling their products at a loss. Wheat which costs the farmers of North Dakota $2.74 a bushel to produce commands less than half that price at their elevators today. So it is with other products of the farm."

"On the other hand, the worker is paying high prices for the foods produced by the farmer. The road between farm and kitchen is too long and there are too many to take toll on the way. Farmers get too little for their products; consumers pay too much."

BEGIN ARRANGEMENTS FOR INAUGURAL DAY IN SUNNY SOUTH

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Feb. 3.—Plans for the momentous day when he will become chief executive of the United States occupied a part of the attention of Warren G. Harding today. News from Washington of the attendance at a theatre of President Wilson, it is understood, permitted the president elect to outline with more certainty the schedule for his journey from the White House to the capital and the return to the executive mansion for luncheon with his predecessor. No doubt was expressed by members of the Harding party today that President Wilson would be seated beside Mr. Harding on that journey.

The president elect left for Palm Beach on the yacht Victoria early today after having spent the night at anchor near Fort Lauderdale. It is expected the Victoria will arrive at Palm Beach early this afternoon. Mr. Harding will luncheon at the home of Mrs. Theodore Frelinghuysen and play eighteen holes of golf before sailing again for the north.

LOVES HIM BUT
WANTS TO RETURN TO HER HOME
Marion, O., Feb. 3.—"I love him and always will, but I want to go home with you now," sobbed pretty 16 year old Alma Grassart, of Warren, who ran away to wed, but was taken off a midnight passenger train here and lodged in jail at the request of her father. Today the mother came after her. The girl was enroute to La-Crosse, Wis., where she was to meet her sweetheart and be married. Her father is a prominent Warren business man.

SIX KILLED IN FURIOUS FIGHT IN IRISH CITY

Sinn Feiners Meet Death In Desperate Battle.

PARTY AMBUSHED

British Military Policemen Engage Party Of Attacks.

Dublin, Feb. 3.—Six sin Feiners were killed and a number were wounded in a desperate battle with British military policemen near Rosscarberry early today.

A large party of Republicans had ambushed two lorries filled with policemen. At the first volley from the attackers the policemen returned the fire and violent fighting ensued. Finally the attackers were forced to retreat in disorder leaving their dead and a number of wounded behind. The authorities did not announce the police casualties.

The fighting raged so furiously that the firing was heard nine miles away. It was the first reported that one hundred Sinn Feiners were in the ambush party but later reports are yet officially confirmed, said that 400 men had participated. The Republicans had commandeered the home of Thomas King, a justice of the peace at Burghat, near Rosscarberry. Their intention was to attack a detachment of 15 policemen who were expected to pass. The Republican leaders however, failed to cut all the telephone wires and reinforcements of military police were summoned from Clonakilty after the fight had begun. The reinforcements were rushed to the scene equipped with all accoutrements for battle. When the attackers were driven from the King home the building was said to be a veritable shambles.

Stern guerrilla warfare is raging along the Irish front with the Sinn Fein taking revenge for the execution of Cornelius Murphy at Cork who was dead nearly 12 hours before anyone outside of official circles even knew the nature of the sentence imposed upon him by the court martial. At least four policemen were killed and ten others wounded in attacks by Republicans during the 24 hours that followed the public announcement of Murphy's execution. Three others who were alleged to have assisted the British police were shot to death from ambush.

A man was shot dead in Bishop Street near Dublin Castle early today. A cyclist was killed by stray bullet while riding through Trinity street. A boy was wounded while crossing Angier street. Soldiers and black and tan Police-men were active throughout the night in all parts of Ireland.

The death list in the attack upon black and tan policemen near Bon Innalme, in county Longford, was brought up to four this morning when two of the policemen died of their wounds. Two motor cars filled with black and tans were ambushed and blown up with a mine that had been planted under the roadway. Two were killed outright and ten others were wounded.

A totally different kind of leaf is needed for that spicy, aromatic aroma. That's why we put rare and choicest selection of Macedonian leaf in Spur.

Then there is the leaf that gives "life" and "sparkle" to the blend. That's why we put Golden Virginia in Spur.

And it is possible to make a cigarette that burns just right—yes, cool-burning. That's why we put Maryland-grown leaf in Spur.

POLICE RECOVER PAPERS STOLEN DURING ROBBERY

Papers belonging to the Xenia branch of the Springfield Dairy Products Company which was robbed of $20 when the office safe was blown Tuesday night, have been found by police along the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad near the Robbins & Myers plant.

Papers taken from Xenia Oil Company filling station at West Market street and Dayton avenue, also entered Tuesday night, were found in an outhouse back of the creamery indicating that the robbers entered the filling station first, carrying part of the papers obtained there to the creamery building, where they pulled the second job of the evening, and then left by way of the Baltimore & Ohio tracks east.

Police have in their possession the iron railroad bolt used to smash the door glass of the filling station, which was taken from a pile of railroad iron farther down the Baltimore & Ohio tracks, and they also have a piece of brake shoe and a rail spike used in prying the lock from the engine room door of the creamery.

It has been learned that the robbers made a bigger haul than at first thought at the filling station, as a Smith & Wesson revolver and a pair of pliers, left there for safe keeping by a Cincinnati motorist whose car broke down near there Tuesday afternoon, were missing following the robbery. The owner's machine was hauled in to the Central Garage but his name was not learned.

Martin Lavin, 46, arrested on suspicion Wednesday morning, has been exonerated of any connection with the robberies, furnishing an alibi for himself for all Tuesday night. Efforts are being made to have him taken care of at the County Infirmary.

MICHAEL MULLEN POLITICIAN OF CINCINNATI DIES

Michael Mullen, Cincinnati politician, leader of the Eighth Ward in that city, Republican whip in the City Council and philanthropist, died Wednesday afternoon at Good Samaritan Hospital that city. He had been in failing health for some time.

The death of Mike Mullen, one of the most interesting and lovable characters in this vicinity, will be received with sadness by the thousands of poor he has befriended and will also be a shock to his many friends at Bellbrook, where annually for many years, he brought a great number of Cincinnati's poor children, for an outing in the country.

Born in March, 1856, Michael Mullen assumed the leadership in the ward in which he made his home, when he became connected with the police department in 1881. In 1887 he was elected a member of the City Council on the Democratic ticket, although he is a Republican in politics, and he had served on the council ever since. Since the death of George B. Cox, he has been a leader in Republican politics in Cincinnati, although he played the game vigorously it is said of him, that he was always fair and square.

When Mullen was just beginning his rise he was befriended by Arty Duffy, proprietor of a gambling house at Sixth and Vine streets, where the Bell block now stands. Duffy conducted a gambling house when this was a profitable business in Cincinnati. Later Duffy suffered reverses and finally, when he lost his fortune, he had made it, Mullen created a house for him at Fifth and Pike streets, where he lived until he died a few years ago.

Eight years ago, Duffy was owner of the famous Bellbrook Inn, which 20 years ago was a prominent summer resort in this part of the country, and where hundreds have summered. The farm was sold to satisfy a mortgage and Mullen purchased the place for a country home, and there it was that he entertained many of his friends, and held annually his picnics and outings for the poor children of the Eighth Ward, Cincinnati. Up to the time of his death, Duffy was always a welcome guest at Bellbrook.

Surviving Mr. Mullen are two daughters, Mrs. Barbara Moran, and Mrs. Mary O'Donnell and a son, John, who is deputy county treasurer. Barbara is by rights a granddaughter, adopted by Mr. Mullen, at which time she insisted on taking her grandfather's name of Michael, which she used as a middle name.

The funeral services will be held at St. Xavier's Church Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

OHIO'S SPUD ACREAGE REDUCED 41 PER CENT

Ohio's potato acreage has decreased 41 per cent during the past 10 years—from 212,000 to 124,000 acres. An important factor in the decreased production is said to be diseased seed.

The average yield in Ohio last season was 100 bushels per acre, or considerably more than the average. Even 100 bushels per acre, growers say, however, is an unprofitable crop. In an attempt to improve the crop yield, certified seed is being used for demonstrations in Ashtabula, Columbus, Cuyahoga, Hamilton, and Scioto counties. The project is being conducted by the county farm bureaus, in cooperation with the Ohio State University.

Since individual growers have secured excellent results from the importation of high class seed, Dr. E. E. Clayton of the Ohio State University says there is every reason to believe that growers as a whole can increase their yields and profits in this way.

The northern counties are importing Rural New Yorkers from Wisconsin and the southern counties, Early Ohio from Minnesota.

NEW YORK TO GET BIG SCRAP SAYS RICKARD, JULY 2

New York, Feb. 3.—(Lil' Ole New York) is going to get the Dempsey-Carpenter scrap after all.

It is also going to get the Dempsey-Willard knuckle fest, providing Dempsey is still champion after he meets Carpenter.

These announcements were made today by Promoter Tex Rickard, who plans to build an open air arena in or near New York or the staging of the international battle July 2 and the winner of the bout and Willard on Labor Day.

Rickard has staged most of his big fights in the open and he believes that even with a limit of $15 for a championship bout he will be able to promote the Dempsey-Carpenter bout successfully.

The Dempsey-Willard bout has been simply set ahead. Rickard said that both boxers were willing to go through with the original match on March 17, had he insisted on it, though Willard's sudden departure from this neighborhood and Jack Kearns' assertion that Jess had run out of the match left a suspicion that the match did not look alluring to Willard who would have had to gamble with Rickard on the gate it would draw in the 'garden.'

Rickard is expected to announce a site for the big arena within a week or two and he expects to have it ready for the staging of outdoor bouts just as soon as the weather will permit. This plan will be followed to the letter unless unforeseen happenings block it.

THREE GAMES ARE PLAYED AT RINK WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Fans were treated to all kinds of basketball at the Rink Wednesday night when the Shamrocks defeated the Springfield Triangles in a well played exhibition of the court game, 21-11. St. Brigid's Meteors were defeated by the Comer Raincoats of Dayton 17-15 and St. Brigid's Cadets defeated the Carrmonte Cadets of Dayton 20-4.

As a basketball game, the contest between the Meteors and the Comers was a grand football fracas. Coach Haller's players were outweighed 40 pounds to the man, the management having been fooled on the size and age of the Comers because of the fact, that the latter team recently joined with the Cettile Jrs. When the crowd yelled "hold 'em" the visitors, it is said took the shouts literally, and it kept Referee Rachford busy prying them off the local lads. The half ended with the score 11-8. The lineup and summary:

Meteors (15) Comers (17)

Neville (c) rf Haynes
Hendrickson c Hatfield

Substitutions: Young for Zimmerman, Schaeffer for Scheer, Zimmerman for Haynes, Haynes for Hatfield. Field goals: Hendrickson 4, F. Leahy 1, Zimmerman 5, Haynes 1, Young 1. Foul Goals: E. Leahy 2, Neville 3, Zimmerman 1. Referee—Rachford. Scorer—Wones. Time—20 minute halves.

The Shamrocks, with "Yank" Stevens in the lineup, and the Springfield Triangles furnished a game of real thrills for the edification of the fans. Superior guarding enabled the locals to carry off the victory. The pass work of both clubs was accurate and lightning fast. The lineup and summary:

OHIO FARM HOMES LACK CONVENIENCES

Home conveniences on Ohio farms are sadly lacking, if the results of a survey conducted last summer by specialists of the Agricultural College Extension Service may be taken as a criterion.

A house-to-house survey was made in one typical township each of Madison, Athens, Crawford and Lorain counties.

Outstanding among the facts developed are that only 9 per cent of the homes have running water, less than 9 per cent have bathtubs, and but 56.3 per cent have washing machines of any kind, although 93.5 per cent of the laundry work is done at home. Only a fourth of the washing machines are run by power. Over 90 per cent of the farm families are using an out-door closet that is not fly proof.

NOT AN EXCESSIVE INDEMNITY.

Why should it be assumed that the amount of the indemnity apportioned to Germany is unjust and impossible?

The total is 56 1/2 billion dollars, payable over forty-two years. A sliding scale of payment is provided for, to make payment easier. If it were distributed equally over the forty-two years the annual payment would be one billion three hundred million dollars.

In addition there is a levy of 12 per cent on German exports. The amount which this will raise is uncertain. It is the fixed indemnity about which protests are now going up.

An average of a billion three hundred million a year for a generation is a large sum. But the United States is paying nearly that much in annual interest on the expenses incurred in the war. France has an interest charge on its war debt nearly double the amount of the annual German indemnity. The interest on the combined war debt of the United Kingdom, France, Italy and Belgium is more than four times the amount Germany is asked to pay each year. That does not take into the account the destruction to life and property.

Why is it unreasonable to expect Germany to pay annually an amount which is only a fraction of the sum other nations are having to pay on her account, and which is not much more than half as much as the French people alone must pay in taxes to meet the interest on the sum raised to repel the German invasion?

—Kansas City Star.

"WHATEVER GOES UP MUST SURELY COME DOWN"—SO THERE YOU ARE.

In the face of continued slumps in prices as industrial and trade deflation progresses, it is noticeable that there is an encouraging note of optimism by leading manufacturers and business men. The period the country is now passing through was discounted in advance by men familiar with the operations of economics.

Merchants generally were reluctant to "take a loss" and at once enter upon the lower price levels for merchandising, and it is not surprising that this should have been the case. Most merchants had stocked up heavily with high-priced goods, and unseasonable weather last fall. But business men now realize that they were guilty of an error of judgment in proceeding on the assumption that high-level prices would hold up through the present winter. Bitterness against the federal reserve board which followed its action in "tightening up" on money has given way to a realization that this was the only effective way of stopping inflation of prices and of reducing them to the level on which a resumption of industrial and trade activities could be based.

There is yet much to be done in the work of readjustment, but a beginning has been made, and there is reason to believe that recovery is now getting under way. Predictions that workers would refuse to accept new conditions are now seen to have been unfounded.

Nothing is to be gained by enlarging on the condition of unemployment, but all should join in the spread of optimism, for a great deal will depend on the state of mind in which the nation approaches solution of the industrial problem. The principle of common sense functioned in bringing present conditions about; it should operate to help in overcoming them.

THOROUGHBREDS AND JACKASSES.

From the Gulf Coast Lumberman.

The Baldwin locomotive works got an order for a monster locomotive. It was shipped in fifteen days.

"How did you do it?" one of the officials was asked.

"Organization," he responded. "Organization is the art of getting men to respond like thoroughbreds. When you cluck to a thoroughbred he gives you all the speed and strength of heart and sinew he has in him. When you cluck to a jackass he kicks."

Here is an illustration worthwhile, which surely applies to men as well as lower animals.

A wonderful thing is the ability to respond with complete efficiency whenever called upon.

And a more wonderful thing is to be able to get other men to respond that way when you call upon them. That is what the great men of industry—as well as of war—have been able to accomplish.

CREDIT.

This year will bring unsettled times, because of readjusting; the merchant princes need their dimes, and they'll be slow at trusting. They'll not give credit left and right as lately they've been doing, and frowns will greet the slow-pay wight who'd buy a plug of chewing. And many men this year, I guess, will need a slice of credit, for readjustment brings distress—the banking sharps have said it. Now he who's kept his stand-off bright will know the easy sledding, and merchant princes will delight to sell him books or bedding. However stringent money is, the lamps for him are burning; to see his good old honest phiz, the merchants all are yearning. And if he asks to buy on time a grindstone or a hammer, the dealers on his person clumb, with glad, exultant clamor. There'll never be a time so tight that men of reputation for having always acted right, can't get accommodation. A reputation as good pay is better far than rubies, and men who do not think that way must travel with the boobies. The melancholy days are here, suspended "tick" will daunt them; and bills they should have paid last year will rise like ghosts and haunt them.

THERE WILL BE TIME ENOUGH FOR SYMPATHY AFTER THOSE IN THE BACKGROUND HAVE DISGORGED

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

A little stir was created in the vicinity of the Atlas hotel yesterday by the forcible ejection of a fellow from the office. The police investigated and found that he had insisted on getting something to eat at the lunch counter when he had nothing to pay for it. On being refused he raised a disturbance and a table with its contents was overturned.

About twenty carloads of ice have been received here within the past day or two and packed in the Pan Handle ice house in this city. The ice was brought from Logansport, Ind., and is about eight inches in thickness and of fine quality. Shipments are being made through this city of immense wagons with very high wheels and peculiar shape. They are being manufactured by a Springfield firm and are being sent to Mexico where they will be used in hauling ore.

The name of Patrick Lane is today announced as a candidate for assessor in the Fifth Ward, subject to the general election in April. "Patsy" is too well known in the Fifth to need any introduction, but we may say that he is entirely worthy and should be elected he would fill the duties of the office in an acceptable manner.

LONDONERS TRY "BACKBONE TICKLE" AS CURE FOR COLDS AND LUMBAGO

London, Feb. 3.—Have you tried the backbone tickle to cure your cold? An American medical man, Dr. J. R. J. Waters, has put his plate in South Molton Street as a backbone magician and is treating all manner of patients, from baronets to boxers. He is a big-chested, broad-shouldered citizen of the United States is this doctor man, who is as active as a youngster of fifteen, for all that he is sixty years of age.

He has university diplomas in every pocket. He will bring them out like a bunch of unanswered letters and talk like a river in a flood. He never stops from the moment you enter his medical parlour until he waves a graceful adieu.

Dr. Waters works on the theory that all the essential nerves of the body come from the spine and the ordinary ailments which make life uncomfortable are caused by pressure on the nerves. Manipulate the backbone cells and presto, the patient is a fit man! His flexible fingers flicker up and down a man's spine. What is the trouble Lumbago? A bang, a press and a crack of the bone—"And now that's put right," says the doctor. Is it a cold? A tickle, a flick, and a crack, and "no more cold" from the doctor. People who have been thoroughly backboneed say that his cures are remarkably effective.

A daily Express representative who had his backbone well and truly thumped yesterday came away feeling like a Spring morning and with an over-the-bounding-heather walk.

"There are eight million people in London," said the doctor, "and I am going to make them all fit. What a future!"

With The Women of Today

According to Miss Martha O'Sears, who calls herself "business adviser for business women," ignorance of simple banking procedure deters many women from having bank accounts. To meet this condition a New York bank has organized a department especially for the business woman and Miss Sears has been made head of the department. The variety of personal assistance rendered to puzzled and inexperienced girls and women since the opening of the department shows a definite need for such banking service for women.

Miss Sears is called upon daily to solve for perplexed feminine customers their problems of foreign exchange sale of bonds cutting coupons trustworthy investments, systematic savings and other economic matters in which they have had insufficient experience. Miss Sears herself has had years of training in financial circles. In her opinion timidly in revealing to men bankers their lack of business training, as well as frequent failure of business men to realize the complexities of a financial problem from a woman's point of view, are the main reasons for the large number of women who own no bank account even after a long period of wage earning.

Though the service of her department Miss Sears has set hundreds of women on the road to business self-reliance and financial security.

Odd Bits About Women

Policewomen in Boston have a suite of rooms at police headquarters which are furnished in pearl and gray and gold, with expensive mirrors, soft lounges and easy chairs.

Due to the efforts of the French women's council a school of commerce for girls has been founded in France as well as a technical school for girls.

New Orleans is making elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, which is to meet in that city during Mardi Gras Week.

In Paris there is a woman producer of motion pictures, Germaine Dulac, whom the French claim has no superior and few equals.

Miss Mary Murphy has been appointed a member of the lackawanna, Pa., county poor board to succeed her father, who died.

RETAIN BAXTER AS GAME CHIEF

Columbus, Feb. 2.—Governor Davis today asked A. C. Baxter, chief of the state fish and game bureau, to retain his position, which pays $3,000 a year. "I am satisfied from the endorsements of Mr. Baxter's work, received from all sections of the state, that he has made good," declared the governor.

Chief Baxter entered the bureau as a game warden 16 years ago, when Brig. General John C. Speaks, Columbus, now congressman-elect was chief warden. Six years ago, he was chosen assistant chief and served as acting chief while General Speaks was on the Mexican border with Ohio troops. When General Speaks resigned, Baxter was appointed to succeed him.

BEAUTY CHATS

EDNA KENT FORBES

SOME GENERAL PRINCIPAL

If you want to go in for a course of self-improvement, and if you are serious about it there are some general principals that you must understand first. Otherwise you might go wrong in some of your methods, or you just might believe hap-hazard advice which isn't of any account.

First of all you must understand the workings of the human machine—that is your own body. I do not mean to begin a discussion of physiology in this short space, though I do wish something you would get a book about it and read it up. I only want to say this—every day the body takes in new material in the way of food, drink and air. Every day it throws off waste, through the normal passages, and through the pores.

Therefore, the air you breathe must be pure—for it goes into the lungs, touches the blood, and burns up the poisons the blood carries there. If the air isn't pure, it can't do this work properly, and the poisons stay on—the least of the things they cause being pimples and blackheads.

Therefore, too, the food you eat must be the sort you yourself require to make flesh, or bone, or muscle or build up the nerve force—all depending upon what you, individually, happen to need. That's a matter for you to determine, with your doctor's help if you don't feel you can do it properly alone.

Therefore, also, you must exercise each day, to bring into play the bodily muscles that otherwise might grow flabby from disuse. And you must bathe every day—for bathing clears the pores of the skin of the deposits and poisons that are thrown off there leaving the skin free to "act," and to throw off more of the always accumulating waste.

F. M. G.—If your legs are too stout it is probable you are too stout all over. In this case the general reduction will also reduce your legs. Besides this, almost any form of healthy outdoor exercise will help bring your body to proper proportions.

Constant Reader—Wear your hair any way that is becoming, and never mind what happens to be in style. There is an old adage to the effect that the well-dressed woman sets the style but does not follow it. In other words, she wears what looks best on her, and looks so well that other people imitate her. If your hair is becoming dressed in a certain way, by all means wear it like that.

Elsie—You ask me the hardest question in the world when you ask me what to do to overcome self-consciousness. As you are very young, it is quite likely that you will overcome this habit yourself when you grow older. The only thing I can tell you is to make yourself so interested in the person you are with that you will forget yourself and think only of your companion.

OHIO FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick

STATE MEETING IN CINCINNATI

It is officially announced that the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in Cincinnati the third week in October. The invitation extended by the club women of Cincinnati has been formally accepted by the state executive committee. The Queen City entertained the fifth annual gathering of club women in 1899 and the news that the "Paris of America" is to be hostess for the second time to Ohio's club women will be received most cheerfully for they fully appreciate that Cincinnati has few rivals for hospitality.

BETTER ENGLISH

"Better English" ought to be the slogan every year throughout the year of every literary club. The Better English Club, of the Cincinnati Women's Club, is now in the midst of a program that might well be taken up advantageously next year by other clubs in the state. Mrs. Elmer G. Lawrence, leader of this circle, announces that the program is the most popular ever outlined by the circle. It has attracted wide attention. Here are the subjects: "The Value of Good Speech," "Diction of Unlabeled Words—How can I enlarge my Vocabulary?" "Phonetics," "Misuses and Slang," "Posters and Slogans," "Incorrect Forms," "Brevity, the Soul of Wit," "Synonyms," "Letter Writing and Postal Information," "Common Errors," "Pronunciation and Elocution," "Literature as a Necessity," and "Charades and Play." An old fashioned spelling bee features the program with a symposium on national American speeches, a national exhibit of posters and question boxes.

OHIO FEDERATION NOTES

Col. E. A. Deeds, of Dayton, addressed a meeting of the Hamilton Federation of Womens Clubs in January, the meeting being followed by a reception at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. Mrs. Joseph Benson Foraker and Mrs. F. A. Hoadley, of Cincinnati, eloquently pleaded for the help of all women in the enterprise of the George Washington Memorial association.

Surpassing in brilliancy and attendance any similar event ever held by them, Youngstown club women conducted their annual luncheon at the Ohio in January. Five hundred attended. Mrs. J. F. William Ritter, the federation president, made a plea for women to work hard in an effort to solve the puzzle of reconstruction and civilization.

Mrs. Elmer G. Lawrence, Cincinnati, civic chairman of the state federation, recently returned from a trip through the East. While in Washington she visited General federation headquarters to get in touch with the national civic program and plans in detail. Three things have been outlined by the General federation for accomplishment in civic work. First, a citizenship day in every community, where the newly Americanized may be welcomed with appropriate speech and song; second that every woman must stand at attention at the passing of "Old Glory" and third, to memorize the words of "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner." Who knows these songs? Aside from the school children, comparatively very few.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson. We are two sisters; one of fourteen and one of eighteen. We do not use any cosmetics and we comb our hair simply and dress simply. We are fair-looking and neat in shape. We never have been out with fellows, and don't seem to know what makes us so attractive. Some of the most decent fellows have come to us and asked if we would marry them. We are big for our ages. There are ten in our family and we know how to keep house just like grown women.

We are more indoor girls. The thing we would like to know more than anything else is why there are so many prettier girls than we and yet we are liked more. We are friendly to every one who comes up and speaks to us. A policeman has asked one of us to marry him. Do you think we are liked by men because we are decent?

TWO HAPPY HEARTS.

Some people are born with charm while others have to cultivate it. Probably you have a pleasing personality which makes friends for you. Do not, however, spoil yourselves by letting conceit make you over-confident. Be just as "decent" as you can and trust that when you are old enough the right man will admire you for your goodness.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man twenty-two years old and am in love with a girl twenty. We love each other dearly and want to get married, but the only thing that stands between us is our religion. She goes to one kind of church and I go to another. We both like our religion, but our parents do not want either of us to give up for the other.

Do you think we could be happy if we married and kept our own religion, or do you think I ought to turn to the girl's religion? Please give me your advice, for we love each other dearly and do not want to break up.

WAITING.

Such a decision should not be hastened. If I were you I would wait a year before promising anything in regard to religion. If you are as devoted to each other at the end of that time as you are now, I would advise marriage with the understanding that each is to keep his own religion. Of course there is the problem of bringing up the children. The mother usually feels that it is her right to take them into her religion. You must love your wife enough to be willing that she should do so. I am very firm in my belief that a man should not marry until he is twenty-five. He is not developed before then and does not know his mature likes.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl and am in love with a young man who is good-looking and respectable. I am quite sure he cares for me. I have gone places with him and he has always treated me decently.

I have been mean to him lately, but I heard something and it put me against him for a while, but I still care for him. Do you think it all right for me to keep company with him if he still cares for me? It would break my heart to part with him. My parents do not object to my going with him.

SUNSHINE.

You must use your own judgment about the thing you heard. If you feel the young man has not a good character, you should give him up.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl and I am going with a fellow who says he loves me, but he goes with other girls. Do you think he cares for me? I love him dearly. SWEETHEART.

I do not think he loves you since he goes with other girls.

CLIPPING FROM SEMI-WEEKLY GAZETTE SHOWS HIGH PRICES PREVAILED YEARS AGO

You, who have been bewailing the high prices should have lived in the year 1813, when according to a clipping from the Semi-Weekly Gazette, preserved for 40 years by John Schultz, of near Xenia, commodities soared much higher than the point to which the late war boosted them. The clipping is a copy of a story carried in the Springfield Gazette of an old account book found by a reporter in Springfield, Mass., of S. Henkle, Wilson and Co., merchants of that day, and some of the accounts are given as follows:

"John Lingle, debtor to one set coffee cups, $1.75 one set of china cups, $2.50; six holes, $1.12 1-2; 2 glass tumblers, 37 1-2 cents; 1 square small handkerchief, 50 cents, 1 silk shawl for Caty Haines, $4.50.

Saul Henkle, debtor to 1-2 ounce camphore, 50 cents; 1 dozen shirt buttons, 25 cents.

Samson Hubbell, to 1 pound coffee, 44 cents; 1-2 ounce indigo, 15 1-2 cents.

Daniel McKinnon, to 1-2 pound of tea, $1.25.

Harry Van Meter, to 3 yards cambric muslin, $3.37 1-2.

Silas Arbogast, to 1 waist coat, $5.50; 2 yards domestic cotton, at $1.75 a yard.

Thomas Green, to 3 yards calico, at 75 cents per yard.

Samson Hubbell, debtor to 1 yard coloured muslin, 62 1-2 cents.

Jacob Lingle to 1 roole $7 1-2c.

William Wilson, to 2 pounds of sugar, 62 1-2 cents.

James Steele, to half pound of pepper, 25 cents; one bottle British oil 37 1-2 cents.

Nathan Thresher, to one pound rasins, 50 cents.

Coonrod Goodlove, to one vest shape, $1.87 1-2.

John Rosegrant, 3 cages, $5.25.

Zebulum Lewis, one hand saw $3.75.
John Hambleton, 3 yards chinch, $2.62 1-2.
W. H. Cartmell, two gun flints, 12 1-2 cents.
Samuel Martin, 11 lights of glass, $x10, $1.37 1-2.

Abram Yeazell, one candlestick, 62 1-2 cents; 2 pounds of chocolates 88 cents.

William Morris, lofe sugar, 4 pounds and 14 ounces, $2.12 1-2.

Phillip Kizer, 10 yards of bed ticken, $8.75; 1 1-2 gross of buttons, $3.

Mr. Shipman, 3 yards of ribbon, $4 1-2 cents."

According to these prices, sugar was 31 cents a pound, which is at least a cent higher than it reached a year ago, camphor was $1 an ounce, buttons seemed to be scarce and therefore high priced and muslin and cotton goods were out of sight.

The 108 years difference however makes a big difference in consideration of the comparative prices, as the people of that day lived more simply than they do now.

TORPEDO-CARRYING HYDROPLANE TESTED

London, Feb. 2.—Before a representative gathering of foreign powers, including the United States Japan, Norway and Holland, the first public flight of a new torpedo-carrying hydroplane was carried out at Brough, near Hull, in ideal weather.

The plane, the building of which has been conducted with the utmost secrecy, is of an entirely new shape and is claimed to be something new in the way of torpedo-carrying craft.

Of the visitors some internal fittings were removed by order of the Air Ministry who desire that they should be kept secret.

OHIO PASTOR FAVORS SUNDAY BASEBALL, SAID

Columbus, Feb. 2.—"Sunday base ball is all right when it isn't commercialized," declared Rev. Dr. J. J. Tisdall, pastor of the Wilson Avenue Church of Christ, discussing the subject "What Can We Do on Sunday?"

Expressing the belief that everyone should go to church on Sunday morning, he advised that people, after noon, get out and enjoy God's great temple.

He recalled the adverse comment and denunciation heaped upon the heads of another clergyman and him self when they started Sunday amateur baseball games in another city.

But, he said, he saw 17,000 spectators at one of these Sunday games while he was in that city last summer on a visit.

LOCAL AMATEUR WIRELESS OPERATORS COMPETE FOR PRIZE

Local amateur wireless operators have received notice from W. Kirwan, Box 148, Davenport, Ia., of the sending of a 30-word message from President-elect Warren G. Harding, as a Washington's birthday relay, on February 22, and as a test for amateur operators who will compete for prizes in receiving the message.

The message will be relayed from certain sending stations in each district and receivers to deliver the message to any City, County, State or National officials, have it received and then sent to Kirwan, to compete for the several thousands of dollars worth of prizes that are being offered.

The message is being sent out to inspire good natured rivalry between operators of the United States and Canada and to give operators a chance to do long distance receiving and afford operators a big event for the year, to show the new President-elect what the amateur operators of the country can do and to stimulate interest in wireless throughout the world.

In order to make the message more difficult 14 words will be sent from the Atlantic and 14 from the Pacific, while the two last words will be sent from a central receiving station. The words will be received alternating so that the message will have to be pieced together and the report of the prize winners will be published in the wireless magazine after the prizes have been awarded. The message will start at 8:10 o'clock in the evening.

Walter Galloway, South Detroit street, who now has most of the equipment formerly used by Lyon Galloway, Frederick Schell, north Galloway street, Roger Lynn, High street, and William McCormick, North Detroit street, are the local amateur operators who will attempt to receive the message and compete for the prizes offered.

OHIO AND NEW YORK NECK AND NECK ON NUMBER OF MOTORS

Ohio and New York are still running a close race for the honor of having the largest number of motor vehicles.

Official registration figures from the two states received by the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company show that New York was still leading on December 31, last, but by a very small margin. Ohio had made great inroads into New York's lead of a year before and gave indications of passing the eastern state before another year is passed.

The final figures showed that New York had 658,165 motor vehicles as compared with Ohio's 632,585. On December 31, 1919, New York had 566,511 and Ohio 511,031.

Ohio actually led New York in the number of passenger cars, having 538,090 as compared with New York's 519,272. New York more than made up for this difference, however with its larger truck and omnibus registration having 132,526 while Ohio had only 83,300. The two states had an almost equal number of dealers licenses, New York having 3,523 and Ohio 3,859.

Motorcycles are not included in the above totals. New York had 29,342 and Ohio 23,300.

In the first four weeks of Ohio's new year, 450,000 passenger cars and 75,000 trucks were registered, practically 90 per cent. of the entire number registered last year. This unusually large number is due according to the Ohio registrar of automobiles, to the mild winter. Few motorists have stored their machines it said.

X-RAY WILL MAKE ALL GIRLS BEAUTIFUL IT IS NOW CLAIMED

Paris, Feb. —The ladies, "God Bless 'em," as Mark Twain said, will soon all be beautiful at a trifling cost.

Remaking the entire female nervous system, resulting in the rejuvenation of even aged women, rebalancing their visages, destroying their wrinkles, filling up their cheeks, restoring the sparkle of youth to their eyes is a comparatively simple operation.

It is done by means of an X-ray, hose by which the rays of light are injected into the optical nerve of the patient.

At least this is the explanation of Prof. Guide Holaknecht, of the Vienna Röntgen Ray Institute. It is officially announced from Vienna today that: "Of 100 women operated upon 80 have been absolutely and completely rejuvenated and made to look younger than their own daughters."

"Not only beauty, but youthful vigor was restored practically instantaneously," except in cases of incurable disease."

The other 20 women were all afflicted with different maladies preventing the complete success of the experiment, but all of them were marvelously benefited.

The fee for the operation is announced at 20,000 crowns, which at the present rate of exchange is approximately $50.

SAYS HIS PRESCRIPTION HAS POWERFUL INFLUENCE OVER RHEUMATISM

Mr. James H. Arzen who suffered for many years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Sayre & understanding that they will freely re- Hemphill have been appointed agents for Allenhu in this vicinity with the turn the purchase money to all who state they received no benefit.

CABLE WIRELESS ROUTE TO SHIPS ENTERING HARBOR

London, Jan. 31.—World-wide interest has been aroused in the working of the "radio" pilot cable laid at the bottom of the channel leading to Portsmouth, which enables fog-bound vessels to steer by sound an accurate course into the harbor.

"There is no connection between the ship and the cable other than the magnetic waves that are radiated from the cable," said an expert.

"The cable is laid beneath the exact course to be followed by shipping, and its 'free' end is out at sea—the Portsmouth cable is about twenty miles long. The high-frequency electric current in the cable emits a certain note in Morse code."

CORONER RENDERS SUICIDE VERDICT IN DOCTOR'S DEATH

Funeral arrangements for Dr. W. S. Ritenour, 721 Salem Avenue, Dayton, former Bellbrook and Xenia physician, whose body was found near Dayton Wednesday have not yet been completed.

The body is being held at the undertaking establishment of Bradford and Routzong in Dayton, pending completion of the arrangements. Relatives are awaiting word from James Turner, brother-in-law of Dr. Ritenour, who recently started on a Southern trip, and is in Texas now, before completing the arrangements. Burial, however, will be made in Bellbrook, according to relatives.

Coroner Jesse Kimmell, of Montgomery county, returned a verdict of suicide by taking carbolic acid, following an investigation of the case Wednesday. The body of the physician was found on the bank of a creek near Alexandersville Wednesday, after he had been missing since Tuesday morning. His abandoned automobile was standing on a road near by and first attracted the attention of a farmer, who notified Dayton police.

Beside the body was found an empty two ounce bottle, which had contained poison and a graduated glass. In the pockets were found another two ounce bottle of poison and a six ounce bottle of grain alcohol. A note of January 26, saying merely "good bye to all," was found in his pocket.

John S. Turner, of Bellbrook, father-in-law of Dr. Ritenour, who is now in Dayton, is authority for the statement that his son-in-law was discouraged. Tuesday morning he left his home in his automobile saying that he had to perform an operation. When he did not return Tuesday night, it was learned he had not been to the hospital. When his body was discovered Wednesday his mouth was severely burned by the acid he had taken, and there were footprints leading only one direction from the automobile he had left on the roadside.

The suicide of Dr. Ritenour was a shock to his many friends here and in Bellbrook, and to members of the local medical fraternity. Born near Jamestown, 39 years ago, Dr. Ritenour began the practice of medicine in Ross county, where he has many relatives. Later he practiced in Bellbrook, being married there ten years ago, to a daughter of John S. Turner, prominent retired farmer. Later he was a member of the staff at the McClellan Hospital, this city.

When the United States entered the war, Dr. Ritenour enlisted in the public health service, holding the position of first assistant surgeon at Camp McClelland, Alabama. After his discharge he came north and established a practice in Dayton a year ago with an office on South Brown street. Besides his wife, one son, Turner Ritenour, survives.

CALLED BY DEATH LATE WEDNESDAY

Miss Margaret Whittington, 86 years of age, passed away at the home of her brother, Nathaniel Whittington, 4 miles east of Cedarville, at 9:50 Wednesday evening, of a complication of diseases.

Miss Whittington is survived by one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards of Greenville, Ohio, and her brother, Nathaniel Whittington, with whom she had made her home.

The deceased was a member of the Reformed Presbyterian Church at Cedarville. Funeral services will be held at that church, at one o'clock, Friday afternoon, and will be in charge of Reverend Harriman. Burial will be made at the Caesar Creek cemetery near Jamestown.

BROTHERS LOCATE PARENTS FINALLY

Holyoke, Mass., Feb. 2.—Separated from their parents in the excitement and disorder attending the Chelsea fire, in 1908, two brothers, Edward and Eric Bailey, aged eighteen and twenty-two years respectively, have located their mother in Jamaica. They have left the farm of A. L. Green where they have been working and will join her.

The boys were taken by the State following the fire and for several years have been placed on farms to work.

Since the fire the parents of the boys have separated and each married again.

BRITISH COPS EXPERT IN RIOTS; CARRY NO GUNS

London, Feb. 3.—The easy—almost apologetic—way in which the British policeman handles a crowd always impresses a stranger, particularly an American.

The British "bobby" has had a number of opportunities lately of demonstrating this manner of his—and he will, no doubt, have a great many more chances this winter with its many unemployment parades.

During recent disturbances all the newspapers—with the exception of the Bolshevik organ—commented on the good temper and restraint shown by the police in their very difficult job.

It must be remembered that the British policeman does not carry a revolver. His only weapon is a short "billy," which he calls a baton and this is hidden away in his pocket, to be drawn and used only on the greatest provocation. When using it he must be careful not to hit his opponent over the head with it, but must strike him only on the arms or body.

In addition, he is hampered with an oilskin cape which he carries rolled up and slung from his belt. This, of course, is in his way when he is defending himself or attacking a crowd. He occasionally finds it of use, however, as a weapon and it is certainly of more value in dispersing a crowd than is the little "billy."

During the Whitehall riots last Fall it was a funny sight to see a long line of policemen advancing against a mob lustily swinging their canes—which rolled in a tight bundle made a very effective "night stick."

The cape has the additional advantage as well of knocking a rioter down—and leaving no mark.

It is certainly a liberal education to see a platoon of English police "moving on" a crowd. First they stand in a line, looking rather bored at the whole proceedings. Then they move out together and, locking arms, try to force the crowd along by sheer pressure. When they succeed in getting it on the move, then they separate and break it up into small parties, all the time saying "move along, please," or "don't stop please."

Always the "please" and if they have to draw the "batons" they seem to hit with great care so as to do as little damage as possible.

But when they really lose their tempers and see some of their comrades struck down—then the best

"PRETTIEST WOMAN ON BOAT." VERDICT

Mrs. S. A. Barrell.

This piquant young matron was voted "the prettiest woman on board the liner La France," which arrived in New York recently. With the great numbers of movie stars, actresses and society girls who are sailing for Europe or returning home on each trip, that is quite some tribute.

thing to do is to get to some spot of safety as quickly as possible for they can handle 'em rough when they have to.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Four 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

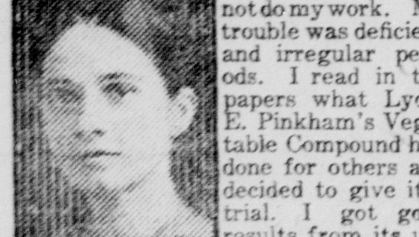

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

SO WEAK SO NERVOUS

How Miserable This Woman Was Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toomsboro, Ga.—"I suffered terribly with backache and headache all the time, was so weak and nervous I didn't know what to do, and could not do my work. My trouble was deficient and irregular periods. I read in the papers what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to give it a trial. I got good results from its use so that I am now able to do my work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to mine and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. C. F. PHILLIPS, Toomsboro, Ga.

Weak, nervous women make unhappy homes, their condition irritates both husband and children. It has been said that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous dependency, "the blues," irritability and backache arise from some displacement or derangement of a woman's system. Mrs. Phillips' letter clearly shows that no other remedy is so successful in overcoming this condition as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

SEEK TO CLIMB CHIMNEY OF WORLD, MOUNT EVEREST

London, Feb. 3.—The Alpine Club and the Royal Geographical Society acting in concert will send this year a climbing party to Tibet who will make, a great effort to reach the summit of Mount Everest.

Such an expedition must be essentially a great adventure. Mount Everest, the highest known peak in the Himalayas, or the world, is 29,002 feet in altitude. Even the approaches are unknown as yet to Europeans. The pioneers will encounter risks from icy slopes, rocky precipices, avalanches intense cold, terrific winds and blinding snowstorms.

In addition there will be the unknown factor of the capacity of a human being to stand great exertion at a height more than 4,000 feet higher than man has ascended any mountain.

A Reconnaissance party will be sent out the end of May to acquire the fullest possible knowledge of the geography of the region. Their task will be to explore all the approaches to the mountain through country at present entirely unknown.

The attempt to reach the top of Mount Everest will be the greatest feat in the history of mountain climbing.

SCHOOL BOARD TO OFFER $250,000 BONDS

Chico, Cal., Feb. 3.—A flirtatiously-inclined cinnamon ball failed to make a hit when he paraded around the little "red school house" of Seiad Valley, Siskiyou county, presided over by Schoolmarm Gladys Westlein, nineteen. Miss Westlein organized a hunting party, traced bruin to his lair and killed him with a shot from her rifle. Now bruin graces the floor of Miss Westlein's home here as a handsome rug.

WALL PAPER STORE TO CHANGE LOCATION

Fred F. Graham, wall paper and paint dealer and interior and exterior decorator, is planning to move his business from its Green street location, to the Hornick building on South Whiteman street, which he recently purchased and which he formerly occupied.

The South Whiteman street building, where Mr. Graham conducted his business for a number of years before purchasing the business of Charles S. Johnson on Green street, some time ago, will be remodeled for his occupancy and the removal will take place March 1.

Carpenters will start to work next week remodeling the building, with an outside stairway between the two storerooms on the ground floor, giving access to the second story where two modern flats will be constructed. The flats will be about five rooms each with bath and modern improvements.

The Mullen-Jenkins Tobacco Co., which has its wholesale headquarters in one of the store rooms, will continue to occupy that room and Mr. Graham will only occupy one of the business rooms, instead of both of them formerly. He will put a new front in the business room and otherwise remodel it for his own occupancy.

ONE FOX CAPTURED IN DRIVE; FOUR ESCAPE HUNTERS

One live fox was caught by hunters who participated in the fox drive held in the vicinity of Whitehall near Yellow Springs Wednesday. The hunters numbered 2,500, it is said.

Five foxes were chased up in the huge ring that was formed by the hunters, but four of them managed to make their escape. The fifth fox took refuge on the Edwards farm, where it was penned up, and taken alive by W. R. Mongold, of 508 East Pleasant street, Springfield. The animal was sold for $5 to a Miss Bauer of Springfield, after being bid in and returned many times, until its total value amounted to $132. The highest individual bid was $14 by the Whitehall farm, while Edward Weigle, Ralph M. Temple and Kenneth Stines, bid the animal in a group for $15.

At noon the ladies of the Bethel church at Husted served luncheon to the hunters at Whitehall, and in the afternoon a clay pigeon shoot was enjoyed, turkeys being offered as the prizes for the best shooting. The honors were carried off by C. A. Young of Springfield.

To make their night a large crowd attended the dance in the Yellow Springs opera house that was the climax to the day's festivities.

MAN AGED 80 SUES FOR DIVORCE

His wife answers that she left him because she could not stand his ill treatment any longer.

Judge Lazells in entertaining an order awarding the defendant $75 counsel fees declared it appeared from the record that the "litigants in this case had reached the age where preparations for the other world were more timely and in keeping with all circumstances than a suit for the dissolution of matrimonial bonds."

VIVID DESCRIPTION OF INVASION OF ARMENIA GIVEN

A vivid description of the invasion of an Armenian town by the dreaded Turk, has been given by Edward Fox, of Pottsville, Pa., who has just returned from his post as Near East Relief director at Kars.

"On the morning of October 30th of last year," reports Mr. Fox, "the town was quiet except for the ominous sound the firing in the distance. I feared then that it meant the Turks were coming but we all went about the business of the day, hoping that our alarm was unfounded. Railroad communication with Alexandropol had been cut off previously by the Turks and we knew that what ever happened it was up to us to stay by and help the inhabitants of the city."

At noon we watched the military operations in the valley through field glasses, and there was nothing for it but to conclude that the Turks were forcing the pitifully small Armenian army back to Kars.

"Suddenly a shell burst near the railroad station and from that moment the town was in the utmost confusion. The entire population burst out of doors with all the luggage they could carry on their backs and piled in carts and loaded upon animals. The panic was terrible. The principal idea in the mind of everyone was to get out of town and it was estimated that 30,000 evacuated within half an hour."

"I visited the orphanages and hospitals in rapid succession to find our brave American men and women ready for the emergency, protecting with their own lives the little ones in their care. A Turkish officer approached and promised me that he would place a guard about the American buildings and so I left for the valley with my mind at ease."

"I found plenty to do for many weary hours. Those soldiers who could still be helped were sent back to our hospitals and we hurriedly buried their comrades who had been left on the battle field in the wake of the devastating Turks."

"When we returned to the city we were astonished to see the inmates of the orphanages crowded in the streets in a state of object terror. They were suffering the most unbelievable insults at the hands of the soldiers whose leader had promised protection. Our own workers were being forced to march from one spot to another at the whim of the men."

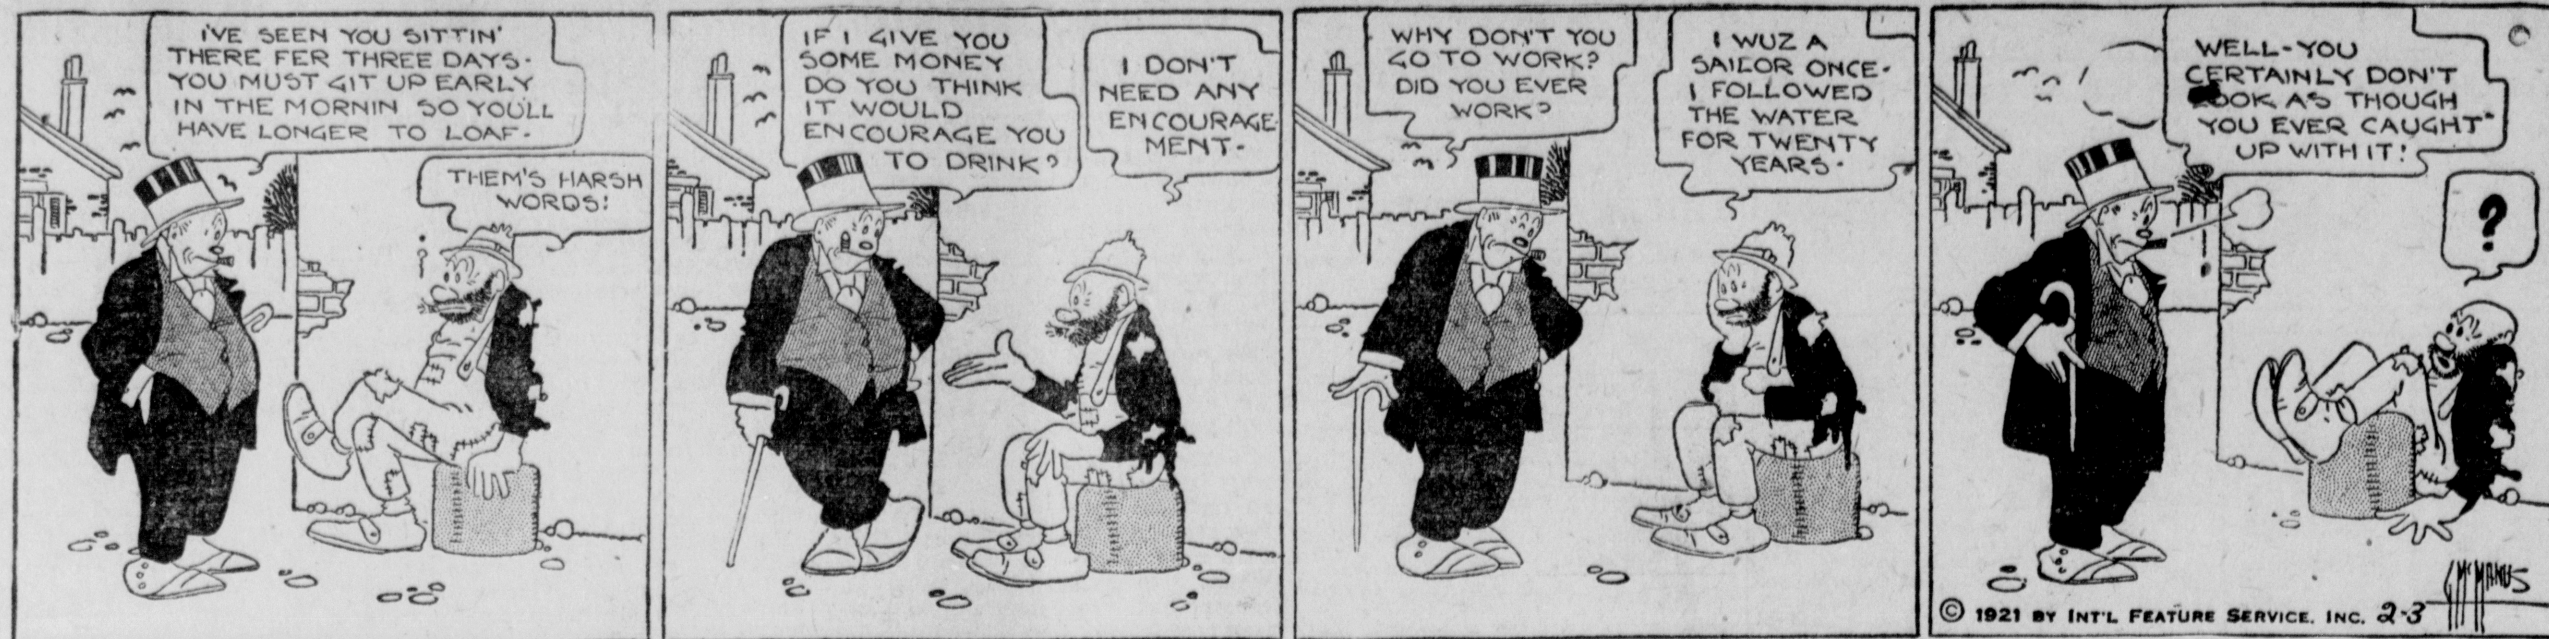

"In desperation I hurried out to find Kasim Pascha, the general in command. I took him to our schools and finally he saw that order was restored."

"The greatest problem came in the feeding of the thousands of refugees who looked to us of the American committee, to help them. For days they lived entirely on the raw wheat and barley from the fields and when that was gone there began a period of scanty meals. Then came a consignment from America sent us by the Near East Relief station and all was well again. If the people here at home only knew how much it means to receive the supplies they send, there would be more of them and the situation in the wretched towns of the gallant little country of Armenia would be greatly relieved."

TESTED RECIPES

An Oven Dinner—Procure a slice of steak, from two to three pounds, and one bunch of celery—wash and break in about eight-inch lengths. Put celery on the steak. Salt and pepper freely. Then roll steak around celery and tie and put in center of roaster.

Peel six small onions, six potatoes, four turnips (or parsnips), cut in pieces if large. Arrange these around steak in roaster. Salt and pepper to taste. One-half dozen cloves and a little parsley sprinkled over them add to the flavor. Put in one quart of boiling water, cover and roast about one and one-half hours.

Macaroni and Corn—Boil one-half package macaroni in salted water ten minutes, drain and in cold water.

To one well beaten egg add one cup of cooked corn, one cup milk, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon sugar. Mix with macaroni and bake half an hour.

Apple Fluff—One egg, three baked apples, strained and mashed if necessary. Beat the white of the egg until stiff and dry. Sweeten. Add apples and beat. Put in sherbets and serve with the following sauce: One tablespoon butter, two tablespoons honey, one tablespoon dry bread crumbs, beaten yolk of egg. Beat for three minutes, cook until syrup. The sauce may be omitted.

Apple Baking Powder Biscuits—Take two cups sifted flour, four teaspoons baking powder, two tablespoons lard, one-quarter teaspoon salt, mix, add enough water to mix soft dough, place on floured board, roll out and cut with biscuit cutter, insert thick slice of apple on top of each biscuit with sugar, cinnamon and dot of butter, bake. These are fine.

Bread Muffins—Three cups bread crumbs, two and one-half cups of milk, one cup flour, three eggs, one tablespoon melted butter, two teaspoons baking powder, one-quarter teaspoon salt.

Cover the crumbs with milk and let soak fifteen minutes. Beat to a paste and add the beaten egg yolks, flour, salt, baking powder and the melted butter. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in buttered muffin pans in a quick oven twenty minutes.

TO SALT NUTS

Peanuts and almonds are most reasonably priced. Shell the peanuts, remove the paper-like skin and then place in a fine wire basket. Plunge into smoking hot fat and cook until a light brown. Turn on a plate covered with a paper napkin and salt. Almonds may be blanched before salting.

Shell the almonds and then place in a bowl and pour boiling water over the shelled nuts. Let stand for fifteen minutes and then drain. Slip the almond from its skin. Let the nuts dry for one hour and then place into smoking hot fat. Cook until a light brown. Shake dry, and then turn on a plate covered with a paper napkin and salt.

The Woman He Married

BY JANE PHELPS

AN UNSUCCESSFUL SEARCH

CHAPTER 81.

Although annoyed that Junior had wandered off, as I supposed, or had gone into one of the neighboring houses, I was not frightened. No thought that anything serious had happened or could happen in this small town occurred to me. So I went back into the house for my hat, then started out again to look for the little runaway.

I went to the neighbors we knew, those who often stopped to speak to Junior when he played in the yard on pleasant days, but no one had seen nor heard of him.

"He's probably gone to meet Dick," I said aloud recalling the time in Holden when he started to find his daddy.

But when I walked in the direction of the bank, choosing the same route I had often taken when Junior and I went to meet Dick, I saw nothing of my boy, and became worried. But even then I was not frightened. Yet I went on. It was nearly time for the bank to close. I would run in and see if he could possibly have gone all the way there alone.

"What is it Nan?" Dick asked when I went in, "Has anything happened?"

"Yes, no, I don't know! Junior was playing on the sand pile calling to me. Then he didn't call any more and I ran out to see if he was all right, and he was gone. I looked all over the neighborhood but couldn't find a trace of him, and so I came down here. He might have tried to come to meet you, I thought."

"No, but he's all right! The little rascal has probably gone visiting. He's a natural runaway. We'll have to make him stay in the yard."

But I called at every house where the people knew him.

Just then Mr. Peabody, the president of the bank, came into the office. He spoke pleasantly to me turned to Dick:

"Anything wrong, Williams?" Dick looked anxious.

"No, I think, I hope not! Mrs. Williams allowed our little boy to play in the sandpile outside the yard, and he has wandered away."

"It's three o'clock, you go and help locate the little man. I used to run away when I was his age, I remember hearing my mother say, every time I got a chance. I am sure nothing has happened him."

Dick hurried out with me after thanking Mr. Peabody, but though we separated and searched every place we could think of we found no trace of him.

I asked everyone I met if they had seen a little boy, and described the way Junior was dressed. Finally a small girl said she had seen a man taking a little boy to ride in his car. "He was a nice man, he took him for a ride," she said in her childish way. "Which way did they go?"

She pointed the way, and as Dick had gone in that direction I hurried to overtake him.

"The little boy took his pail and shovel riding too," the child called after me, so removing all doubts as to its being Junior.

"A man took him riding in his car," I called when I reached Dick's side, breathless. I had run part of the way.

"People shouldn't do such things. They should know parents would be anxious, especially about such a little chap."

Dick proposed we go back and question the little girl who evidently was the only person who had seen Junior. She added nothing to her story, save to tell us that Junior was laughing, and that there wasn't no back seat in the car.

"A runabout, probably," Dick remarked. Then: "I shall go to the police station, Nan Junior is very likely all right, and having the time of his life, but it is over an hour since you came to the bank, so he must have been gone about two hours. The fellow who took him may have tire trouble or something." I knew he meant, might have an accident, but that he didn't want to frighten me.

I insisted upon going to the police station with Dick. A motorcycle officer soon started up the road the little girl had said the man took, while Dick and I continued our search of the town. But after a bit, Dick said:

"I can't believe anything but an accident to the car would make that man keep a little child away from his home like this. I'll get a car and a doctor, and go after him too, that motorcycle policeman may have located them, and can direct us."

I longed to go too, but when Dick told me it was unwise, that Junior might be brought back, I said no more.

"The fellow might come back another way," Dick argued, when I begged to be taken, "and Junior be frightened not to find either of us."

A beautiful Community Mausoleum; a marble palace in which to bury the dead; where windows shed rays of sunshine; where there is no gloom; where flowers will bloom all the year round; where the horror of the grave is taken away; where we can bury our dead as good as the Kings of Europe or the President of the United States at a lower cost than ground burial, including monument.

Reservations can be secured by subscription only, and that within a few days, as the building will be built only to accommodate those subscribed.

The stamp of disapproval has been placed upon ground burial by health authorities the world over, and soon will be a matter of history and the people of this country will soon see a great change in the disposition of the dead, as they will be forced by the board of health to either mausoleum burial or cremation for sanitary reasons.
